BRITISH AND FRENCH IDEAS DIVERGE ON MAIN TOPICS

Polish Triangle As Well As Silesia Must Be Settled

LOOK TO HARVEY

Extente's Existance May Depend On American Imperturbability

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 5.—According to advices from Prague, large quantities of arms are being sent from Germany into certain districts of Upper Silesia.

London, August 8.—The troublous conditions in which the Supreme Council meetings are being opened are not minimised in London. Apart from the question of the despatch of troops to Upper Silesia, there is a pronounced divergence between British and French views as regards the boundaries of the disputed industrial triangle containing the towns of Beuthen, Kattowitz and Gleiwitz.

While London is known to favor giving Poland only Pless and Rybnik, with a few outlying districts adjoining the industrial triangle, Paris desires to award the whole triangle to Poland. Thus both the capitals maintain that the triangle is indivisible, and leave a clear-cut issue as to its ultimate destination.

It is worthy of note that the Daily Chronicle, which is regarded as the mouth-piece of the British Government, asks whether the Franco-British Entente will be in existence a week hence, and replies that it is doubtful. Other papers adopt a similar line, pinning their hopes to the presence of the American representative (Colonel Harvey) as a more or less impartial participant in the Conference, to find a way out of the difficulty.

Reuter's Paris correspondent quotes an account of the preliminary meeting between the British and French Premiers yesterday, when they both sat together on the balcony of their hotel until eleven o'clock at night.

London, August 7.—The preparations for the opening of the momentous meeting of the Supreme Council in Paris tomorrow are almost complete. Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Curzon, Sir Robert Horne and other members of the British delegation, together with the Japanese Ambassador, Baron Hayashi, left Victoria Station for Paris this morning. A large crowd loudly cheered the Prime Ministers.

Colonel Harvey, the American Ambassador to London, is already in Paris, whither the Italian Premier (Signor Bonomi), the Minister of Finance (Signor Soleri) and the Foreign Minister (Marquis della Toretta) are proceeding from Rome.

Apparently the Council will have a heavy program, including not only the apportionment of Upper Silesia, but the abolition of the penalties, the trial of German war-criminals, the Near-Eastern question, the provisioning of Russia, the financial position of Austria and the question of allowing Germany to construct aircraft for civil purposes.

American Ambassador To Sit With Council

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 5.—In announcing that Colonel Harvey, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, will proceed to Paris to represent President Harding at the Supreme Council discussions, the American Embassy declares that, while maintaining its policy of abstention from participation in European affairs, the American Government is deeply interested in the just settlement of matters of world wide importance and desires helpfully to co-operate in the deliberations on these questions. It adds that President Harding regards the effective recognition of equal commercial opportunity as essential to the restoration of normal activities throughout the world.

HUGE LOSS IN HALF YEAR
(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—Striking evidence of the present trade slump is given in the annual report of the well known Manchester firm of Messrs. Rylands and Sons Ltd., showing that their loss for the past six months was £1,263,000.

MARCH OF EVENTS

BY BRUCE HOPPER

The Russian, like all prodigals, turns homeward in the hour of hunger to seek relief from the family of nations.

For nearly four years he has roamed the far fields of political and social experiment, spending the nation's heritage in proving certain doctrines of living to be false. Now he is reduced to the husks which even the swine refuse to eat. The compassionate feeling of nations in the great white family toward the prodigal is akin in tenderness to that of the father in the beautiful Bibical story.

But many fatted calves will have to be killed before the hunger of Russia is appeased. The famine west of the Urals is spreading to Siberia. Mgr. de Guebriant, papal delegate, just returned from Chita, reports a pending famine which threatens the starvation of twenty million people this winter.

Inadequate transportation facilities is the principle bar to the rapid feeding of Russia. There is plenty of food in the world. Relief committees will have to penetrate the far interior, for such organisations as the Red Cross cannot delegate their distributing powers. Free transit will have to be given by the Soviets if Russia is to be saved. That will be opening wedge for redemption of the vast empire, for in feeding the people the emissaries from the outer world will disseminate the knowledge that other nations are not in the chaos pictured by the Russian peasents as universal.

Adversity can indeed be declared sweet in its uses if this famine relief brings the truth out of Russia, and either permits a recognition of the existing government, or paves the way for a reorganisation acceptable to the majority of Russian citizens.

WHAT's the matter with Alaska? Is the heralded Golconda, the shining El Dorado of twenty years ago, to return to the native, to become a hunting ground for the Eskimaux and Chilicat Indians, with an occasional military outpost to represent the government at Washington?

Since 1910 nearly 10,000 white pioneers have migrated from Alaska, reducing the population to 27,000. When one fourth of the inhabitants of a new and fabulously rich country return to the crowded condition and competition of the great cities there must be something very wrong. It seems that Gifford Pinchot put the cramp in the Alaska bubble by reserving 98 percent of the natural resources to government ownership. The craze for conservation has been carried to such an extent that private exploitation at a profit is impossible. Plus that grievance the territory is ruled by 38 bureaux in Washington, which means there is no self government.

And thus Alaska, which started with such promises, paying 1,000 percent on the purchase price of seven millions within the first year, will probably lapse into semi-Arctic barbarism unless the stupid bar against private exploitation is removed.

WITH the contract for construction of a railroad bridge over the Yellow River to cost $15,500,000 given to the Societe Belge the industrial recovery of war-stricken Belgium seems to be fairly under way. There are engineering companies of many countries eagerly seeking contracts in China, countries whose steel plants were increased rather than diminished by the war. All of Belgium's factories were dismantled by the Germans, the machinery destroyed or shipped to Germany. That Belgium is able to underbid all competitors for a gigantic construction in China argues for the indefatigable industry of her people, and is proof that the Allies are giving her an immediate and just share of the reparation money paid by Germany.

Oh! Lou, Why Do You Tell Agin' Farrar?

New York, August 6.—A sensation has been caused in theatrical circles by the announcement that Lou Tellegen has filed a suit for separation against his wife, Geraldine Farrar. Both parties are well-known cinema stars.

Holds Empire Tight Is Verdict Of The Premiers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Aug. 2.—Speaking yesterday at a meeting in the lecture-hall of the Commercial University, under the auspices of the Japan Emigration Society, Marquis Okuma laid stress on the importance of disarmament, though he feared that a conference which aimed at the limitation, not abolition, of armaments might fall short of the original object.

He declared that a re-discussion of what was already decided upon at international conferences, such as the Yap and Tsingtao questions, would not be tolerated in any circumstances.

ELECT DELEGATES

Peking, Aug. 5.—The inaugural meeting of the Pacific Conference Association was held at the Naval Club yesterday, Mr. Huang Hsi-chuan presiding. An Executive Committee was elected, with Mr. Yeh Kung-cho as chairman, and the following members: Messrs. Huang Fen, Chen Chen-hsien, Chen Yuan, Huang Yen-pei, Liang Shih-yi, Chu Chi-chien, Dr. Wang Chung-hui and Dr. C. T. Wang. Mr. Hollington K. Tong was elected Chief of the Intelligence Bureau.

Crown Binds People Of Empire In Strong Unit

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—The address from the Imperial Conference to the King, after reaffirming devotion to the throne, proceeds as follows:

"We have been conscious throughout the deliberations of a unanimous conviction that the most essential of the links which bind our widely spread peoples is the Crown. It is our determination that no changes in our status as peoples of governments will weaken our common allegiance to the Empire and its sovereign. Knowing your Majesty's deep interest in your people's happiness, we trust our labors at this time of world-wide unrest may be satisfactory to you, and will conduce to the welfare and safety of your Dominions, as well as to the peace of the world. We pray that your Majesty and the Queen may long be spared to enjoy the affection of your subjects, and to see all classes equally recovered from the strain and sacrifice of the War."

Please! Hsu, Don't Make Dancing Worse Penalty Than Now

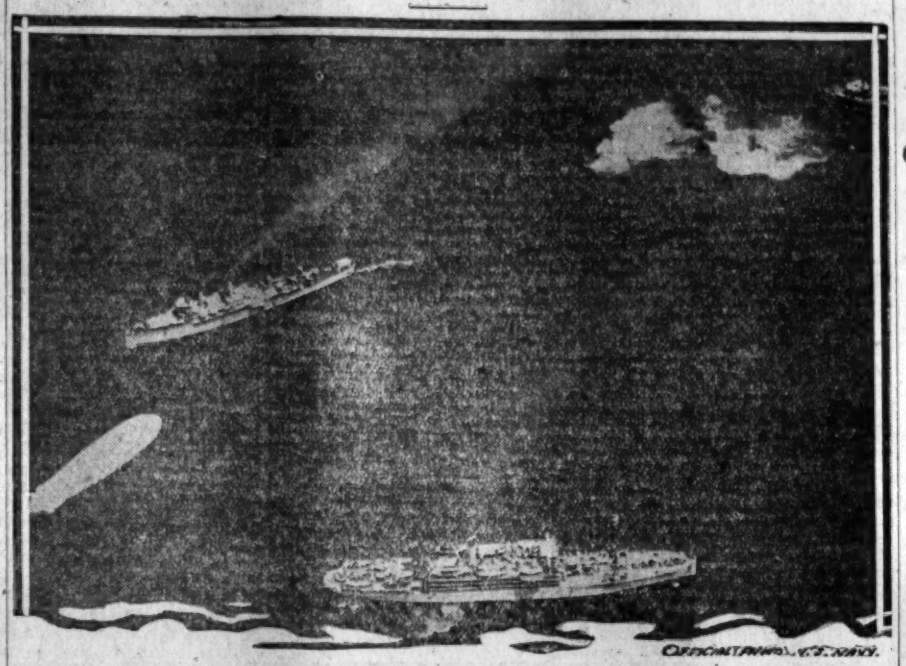
Every now and again Mr. Hsu Kuo-liang, the local comstock and head of the Woosung and Shanghai Constabulary, comes out with a mandate bolstering up the wavering walls of convention. His last edict had the effect of extending the feminine styles in his bailiwick several inches up and down. Yesterday the Chief detonated another proclamation calculated to make radical changes in the summer landscape, a strict enforcement of which order showed keep the force perspiringly active and the Chinese bastilles congested.

The practice of going about "halfnaked," says the proclamation, to which large numbers of the gentry are addicted during the fevered season, is roundly denounced by Chief Hsu. He points out that under provision of article 45, Chapter 7 of the Chinese Police Regulations any person found naked on a public thoroughfare stands thereby automatically qualified for a five days' stay in jail, or a fine not exceeding $5. In the case of children under 12 years of age responsibility rests upon the parents or guardians.

The proclamation does not state whether being found "half-naked" calls for a proportionate reduction of sentence but it warns the populace that from now on any infringements will meet with rigorous application of the law.

The chief's authority does not extend to the Settlement's cafes.

Battleship Steered By Wireless Waves Easily Avoids Bombs Hurled by Airmen



American Tests Show Feasibility of Sending Ship Against Enemy Guiding It From Either Aeroplane Or Battleship And Save Sailormen

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, July 10 (by mail).—The efficient performance of the battleship Iowa under radio control during recent aerial bombing tests may lead to revolutionary changes in naval development, officers believe. Without a soul on board, the Iowa was maneuvered from the battleship Ohio, five miles away, with the utmost precision, and there was not a hitch in the mechanism in more than two hours while the Iowa was being bombed.

So perfectly did the control function that the officer on the Ohio manoeuvered the Iowa away from the attacking air forces at the moment the bombs were being released, varying the speed of the target vessel at will.

Army and Navy officers who witnessed the test were much impressed by the possibilities of development of the radio control idea for use in future wars. It was said to be apparent that raido control might eliminate some loss of life in such enterprises as "block ship" operations, as when the British undertook at Zeebrugge and Ostend to bottle up German submarines. The block ship of the future, it was pointed out, might sail serenely into an enemy harbor without a soul on board, and be sunk to obstruct its channel by the electrical explosion of her magazines.

Already the Navy is working out plans for shifting control at will from a surface vessel like the Ohio to aircraft, either heavier or lighter than air. The radio control device on the Ohio is so simple, that little difficulty is anticipated in adapting it for use in an aeroplane or a dirigible. Indeed, naval officers expect great improvements in the efficiency and scope of this form of control within the next few years.

IRELAND AGHAST OVER EXCEPTION TO LIBERATIONS

Fate Of McKeown, Convicted Of Murder, May Wreck Plans And The Armistice

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 7.—As an exception to the Government's liberation of all members of Dail Eireann who have been interned or imprisoned, the Government has decided that Mr. McKeown, one of their number, who has been convicted of murder, cannot be released.

This decision has created a grave situation in Ireland. Dail Eireann sat till a late hour on Saturday, after which it was authoritatively declared that, unless Mr. McKeown was released, there was a possibility that Sinn Fein would almost immediately terminate the truce.

It is understood that telegrams have been exchanged between Sinn Fein and Downing Street, and that a special courier has been despatched from Dublin to Lloyd George.

TO FACILITATE PEACE

London, August 6.—The Government has decided to release forthwith and unconditionally all the members of the Dail Eireann who are now interned or imprisoned, in accordance with the Prime Minister's promise to facilitate to the utmost the steps now being taken in the direction of peace.

Robber Hits Comrade Aiming Upon Police

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—Five armed men entered a cabinet-makers' premises at Belfast yesterday afternoon and demanded money. When this was refused they fired, wounding two partners in the business, who were taken to hospital. The raiders escaped. Subsequently two public houses were robbed while their proprietors were held up with revolvers.

Today a constable was shot at and wounded by two men whom he challenged. Both men ran off but were seized by two women. They broke loose, however, as the police appeared. One of them fired and hit his companion in mistake. Both men were captured and are believed to be the would-be robbers who visited the cabinet-makers' yesterday.

FEAR WINTER FOR SIBERIA; RUSSIA IS IN FAMINE GRIP

Papal Delegate From Chita Forsees Suffering

Russia will be in the grip of famine all next winter, and twenty millions of people will be threatened with starvation, unless immediate steps are taken to send food to the remote districts, was the substance of a talk by Mgr. de Guebriant yesterday at the Alliance Francaise.

Mgr. de Guebriant, until recently bishop of Canton in the Mission Etrangère, was sent as special delegate of the pope to investigate the condition of the people in the Far Eastern Republic, and stopped in Shanghai on his return from Chita. He has been elected supreme head of the Mission Etrangere, and is returning to Paris after nearly thirty years of service in the Far East to take up his duties in the seminary on Rue de Bac.

MISERY IN SIBRRIA

The misery of the poor people in the cities of Siberia is beyond description, said the prelate. A family of six dines off one bowl of soup, meat is scarce, and flour very dear. The peasants have food, and even manage to make butter. But the people of the cities get such meagre salaries that starvation this winter is inevitable for a great number.

In appealing to the residents of Shanghai to contribute to a relief fund Mgr. de Guebriant reported the formation of a committee in Chita, consisting of two Polish priests, one Frenchman, and one Soviet official, which will supervise the distribution of food.

Mgr. de Guebriant reports the utmost kindness shown him by the Chita officials after they were convinced he had no political mission to carry out. He was delayed for three days at the frontier, but when his passport was finally accepted as valid he was given a special car in which to travel about visiting the priests, most of whom are Polish.

A NOBLE MISSIONARY

In Western China Mgr. de Guebriant is reverenced as one of the most saintly foreigners

RODGER HERO OF DOUBLE RESCUE IN POOTOO SURF

Prominent Attorney Helps To Save Girl, Then Goes To Aid Drowning Man

Mr. H. D. Rodger, Acting United States District Attorney, was the hero of a thrilling double rescue that was witnessed by a gathering of Shanghai people Saturday on the beach at Pootoo. The party had made the trip to the Island on the Steamer Ning Shin and a large number of them were bathing in the surf at high tide when unusually heavy rollers were coming in.

Miss Lola Bochcoysky, the popular French teacher of St. Joseph's Convent, was swimming outside of the point where the big waves were breaking and when she tried to make her way back toward the beach she found herself unable to make headway against the swift tide rip that was running. Mr. Rodger and Mr. Donald, both well known Rowing Club swimmers, went to her assistance and after a strenuous struggle they succeeded in bringing her through the surf into shallow water.

Just at this moment a cry was raised from the beach and it was seen that Mr. J. J. Knowlan was in desperate straits in deep water off of a nearby promitory of rocks on which the big waves were piling up. Although exhausted from the effort he had just made in helping save Miss Bochcoysky, Mr. Rodger went to the aid of Mr. Knowlan and reached him just as he was about to sink. The crowd on the beach then witnessed a remarkable struggle, for being unable to breast the tide and get back to the beach Mr. Rodger attempted to gain the rocks with his half drowned companion.

Time after time after gaining a foothold the two were swept back into the sea by the huge rollers. At length, however, it was seen that both had succeeded in climbing to a point several feet above where the waves were breaking and then a wave far larger than any that had preceded it suddenly swept in and engulfed both of them. The swirl of the receding waters hurled the two out and back and then into a little inlet in the rocks which was a seething mass of foaming water. Here by good fortune Mr. Rodger succeeded in gripping a projection of rock and sheltered from the force of the waves he succeeded in pulling his companion to a point where other hands could give aid.

Both men were painfully bruised and cut on the rocks, but otherwise are no worse for their experience.

SOUTHERN FORCE IS NEAR ICHANG; HUNAN WINS MANY CITIES

Changsha To See Convention Of Kuomingtang To Decide On Plans For Capturing Yangtsze—Wang Resigning Hourly, But Promises Protect Foreign Residents Of The Wuhang Cities

Hankow, August 8 (4:25 p.m.)—The Canton Government has sent Li Lieh-chun to make a descent on Kiangsi. Li's troops are actually threatening the Western frontier of Kiangsi. An attack has been opened on Pinghsiang. Fang Bun-jen, Western Defense Commissioner of Kiangsi, has deserted Tuchun Chen Kuang-yuan of Kiangsi and has joined hands with Li Lieh-chun. The Kuomintang men of Kiangsi are rallying to Li Lieh-chun's side and the situation has become serious.

Tuchun Chen Kuang-yuan is urging Tsao Kun to send reinforcements because the Southern forces are within 70 li of Ichang.

Wang Chan-yuan's troops are putting up a resistance against the approach of the Southern soldiers and fighting is imminent.

It is reported that Kuomintang leaders will soon meet at Changsha to discuss plans for dominating the Yangtsze situation.

Tsao Ying, brother of Tsao Kun is expected to arrive at Hankow today with the 24th division.

Wang Chan-yuan has asked the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs to notify the foreign consular body that he would see that the Wuhan cities are duly protected prior to his handing over the Tuchunship to his successor.

Wang Casts About For Easy Way Of Escape

(Special Wire to The China Press)

Hankow, August 8 (3:25 p.m.)—Hunan forces have captured Puchi and now are threatening Hsienlin. Hsiao Yao-nan is lined up on the Wuchang front and is marching troops toward Tinghsih, expecting a battle. His men also occupy Wuchang guarding the city and his headquarters have been removed from Hankow to Wuchang.

Chin Yun-ao's men fighting the Hunanese are said to have been successful, taking important posts along the Wuchang-Changsha railway line, and only some 60 miles from Wuchang Tuchun Wang's troops, however, are defeated in almost every encounter.

WANG IS COWED

Wang is thoroughly cowed and has sent five urgent telegrams resigning to Peking. Government and Tsao Kun as well have wired him to remain at his post and to dismiss his fears, but Wang is looking on the darker side and has sent his whole family and most precious possessions north.

The Tuchun has called a special conference for Saturday when he will urge the Wuhan military officials to maintain order locally. Wang already has made arrangements with a Chinese gunboat to facilitate his escape and has tried to pass on his official seal to Hsiao Yao-nan so that he could make a rapid exit from official position, but the representative for Wu Pei-fu has declined lacking instructious either from his Tuchun or from Peking. He advised Wang that it was in order for him before he left to account for the funds that had gone into the Hupeh treasuries.

Wang then applied to the civil governor, Liu Tse-nun to keep the seals, which has made Wang's staff exceedingly nervous. To calm them Wang has offered two months' extra salary.

Northern troops continue to come into Honan, the last to arrive being Chao-chien with a mixed brigade. He has promised Wang to fight his enemies. A flood near Chengcho has interrupted traffic and other troops are held up, but more are slated to arrive.

GUNBOATS TO LEAVE

Two British gunboats, the Bee and the Magnolia, will leave Shanghai for up-river today on account of developing war situation. It is reported that the ships will proceed to Yochow, near which point there have been recent cases of firing on steamships.

The Chinese Naval authorities here have received a request from the Tuchun of this province that two men-of-war be despatched to Nanking on account of the instability of the situation on the Yangtsze.

Peking Asks Chang Shall Wang Resign

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 8.—General Wang Chan-yuan, in telegraphing his resignation to the Government on Saturday, recommended the appointment of General Hsiao Yao-nan as Tuchun of Hupeh, and of General Wu Pei-fu as Inspecting Commissioner of Hupeh and Hunan.

The Government has forwarded the telegram of General Chang Tso-lin, who has not yet replied. General Hsiao's appointment, however, is considered certain, though it is not believed that General Wu Pei-fu will accept the post suggested by General Wang if it should be offered to him.

General Chang Tso-lin's opponents anticipate his recommending the appointment of General Chang Hsun to one of the above posts, but it is not believed in official circles that General Chang Tso-lin will again endeavor to thrust forward this unpopular monarchist.

Hongkong, August 8.—In response to the appeals of the Kwangsi commanders General Chen Chiung-ming has ordered a truce on all fronts.

General Ngai Bong-ping has entered Nanning and the Cantonese General Headquarters will shortly be transferred to that city.

Wang Is Requested To Go To His Reward

The Chinese Common People's Society, of Shanghai, comes forward with a naive bit of advice to Hupeh's harassed warlord.

"You have been Tuchun for eight years," the Society has wired Wang, "during which time over ten mutinies have occurred. You should retire and spend the remainder of your life in enjoyment."

Hunan Split In Three Parts Is The Answer

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 5.—Reports regarding the political situation in Hunan lately have tended chiefly to make the position there obscure. It has been stated that Hunan had come to an arrangement with Dr. Sun that General Chao Heng-ti was not directing the operations against General Wang Chan-yuan, which were entirely due to Hupeh troops bent on the downfall of General Wang, that Dr. Sun was marching against Hunan and had already nominated a successor to General Chao, and that Generals Wu Pei-fu and Chao were in complete agreement.

A report received in Peking throws some light on these complicated statements. It says that Hunan is split into three parties: one obsessed with the idea of getting rid of General Wang Chan-yuan, another eager to co-operate with Kwantung against the North and all its adherents, and a third wishing to keep clear of all military action. General Chao Heng-ti is said to be the leader of the last, while Generals Chou Chen-lin and Tan Yen-kai are the backbone of the sympathisers with Kwantung, the opponents of General Wang being almost entirely natives of Hupeh.

Further information goes to show that General Chao and General Wu Pei-fu have an understanding, and that both are agreed that General Wang must go, and that preparations are already being made to cope with an expedition from Canton.

The Chambers of Commerce of Hunan and Hupeh have sent representatives to Loyang to interview General Wu Pei-fu with a view to preventing further bloodshed, and it is expected that some important developments will soon occur, but the report that General Chang Tso-lin has decided to send a brigade to Sinyangchow may complicate matters and interfere with the plans of General Wu.

Wang Claims Victory But Sustains Defeat

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, August 8.—Wang Chuan-yuan telegraphed on August 4 saying a brigade commanded by Sung Ta-pei scored a big victory at Hsinth on the night of the 3rd inflicting over 2,000 deaths on the "enemy" who ran short of arms and ammunition. Some of the student detachment were using one rifle between 2 or 3 persons.

It is rumored that Wang Chuan-yuan is willing to turn over the Tuchunship to Hsiao Yao-nan.

Wu Pei-fu advocates the use of force to settle the situation in Central China. He favors the succession of Hsiao Yao-nan over Wang Chuan-yuan after the Hunan troops to cease to advance.

Wang Chuan-yuan telegraphed two days ago that after an engagement of eight days the troops under him are tired out and that although Hsiao Yao-nan had arrived at Hankow five days ago he had marched no troops to the front.

Premier Chin learns that the Hupeh troops have been influenced by Tang Hsiang-ming to give up their fighting spirit.

Wang Chuan-yuan has called an emergency conference at which he asked Hsiao Yao-nan to take over the Tuchunship. Wang will leave for Shanghai. His family have been sent on board a man-of-war, taking with them Wang's valuables.

Chin Yun-ao telegraphed that on account of the desperate fight put up by the Hunan army, he had lost two detachment commanders who were killed and there were 1,700 casualties on his side. The Diplomatic Corps has asked the Peking Government to bring the fighting in Central China to an early conclusion.

Tuchun Wang has sent out a circular telegram saying that on account of the inactivity of Hsiao's troops he is unable to control the situation. The Government is in receipt of depressing telegrams from Wang concerning the fighting and the Ministry of War has been instructed to persuade Tsao Kun to give orders to the Chihli soldiers to assist more effectively.

Sun Chuan-fang reports that on the 5th the enemy forces were heavily reinforced and admits they are inflicting great casualties to his army.

Chang Tso-lin wired to Tsao Kun that he would send one brigade and one division under the command of Liu Chin-piao.

It is reported that on the 6th inst. the Hupeh troops of the middle section surrendered Tsaoling and had retreated to Puchihsien, suffering heavy losses. A machine gun detachment has been summoned into the city of Wuchang.

A delegation of the citizens at Wuchang has called on Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan urging him not to leave Wuchang until he has paid $20,000,000 to indemnify the people for their losses in connection with the looting which took place on June 7. Wang's reply was:

"I won't abscond. If I do, I would be ashamed to call myself a Shantung man."

Hsiao Yao-nan's argument for not fighting is that General Wu Pei-fu's orders are that fighting should begin only when the whole of his Chihli division has been mustered in Hupeh.

The Hunan troops have captured Puchi and captured over 3,000 rifles and a large quantity of war supplies. The Northern soldiers also were beaten on the 6th.

AGAIN HANDED OVER

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Aug. 6.—The Governor of Hupeh (Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan) handed over this morning the administration to General Hsiao Yao-nan.

BUT STILL STAYS ON

Hankow, August 7.—Despite the desire and readiness of General Wang Chuan-yuan to hand over the administration of Hupeh to General Hsiao Yao-nan, and to leave the Province, he still remains at Wuchang, owing to the fact that the Peking Government has not yet accepted his resignation, while General Hsiao Yao-nan declines for the present to take office without a mandate from Peking.

Very many refugees are flocking into Hankow from Wuchang, including a number of officials.

Chihli Faction Frowns Chang's Ahwei Choice

A Fengtien-Chihli clash is expected owing to Chang Tso-lin's demand that Chang Hsun be appointed Tuchun of Anhwei, the Chihli faction viewing with manifest disfavor the attempt of the Mukden Warlord to plant this pig to windward.

'No Food, No Fight' Is Ultimatum Of Navymen

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, August 6.—The Peking Government was today more optimistic over the Hupeh-Hunan situation and it is said that there is a possibility of settling the trouble before the fighting becomes serious. The expense of military operations, the sufferings of the people and the danger to the general peace of the country is said to be having its effect on both sides and a compromise is likely.

General Hsiao Yao-nan was today reported to have crossed the Yangtze with a considerable force but there were no reports of action. Many believed that Hsiao may discuss terms with the Hupeh party in Hunan before actual operations begin.

Offers of rewards for the capture of General Wang Chan-yuan, dead or alive, have reached Hankow and other points along the river and it is said that they have caused a reaction in some places in favor of the Super-Tuchun. At any rate they have angered Wang and he has replied with an order for his men to capture General Chiang Tso-ping. He wants Chiang brought into camp but the reports did not mention that any reward had been offered.

General Wang Chan-yuan is said to have placed reliance in the Yangtze fleet and was disappointed when he failed to receive the expected aid. He accordingly wired the government asking that the fleet be ordered to help him.

This the Government did but instead of action received a reply that the sailors had not been paid for many months and that they refused to fight without food. The Commander-in-Chief said the men had remained loyal but would not fight unless fed. The Government has instructed the Ministry of Navy to provide funds.

Give Feng Step So He Will Stop In Shensi

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, August 6.—General Feng Yu-hsiang, by many considered China's most progressive and efficient militarist, has been promoted to the rank of Divisional Commander by a Presidential Mandate. The promotion is said to have been ordered because of the efficient work of Feng in settling the Shensi muddle. It is also desirable on the part of the other militarists, according to reports, to keep Feng in Shensi where he will take no hand in the Hupeh-Hunan squabble. Feng is of an independent makeup and in the present crisis he is far more valuable in Shensi than in Hupeh. His army is to be increased to a division, some of the Chihli forces being added to his troops.

Firing On Gunboats To Bring Reinforcements

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, August 6.—Additional British gunboats have been ordered to the vicinity of Yochow on the Yangtze following the second attack by Hunan forces on a British war vessel. The first attack took place several days ago when the forces fired on a British boat near Shasi. Whether the attack was intentional is still to be determined but when the report of the second attack was received a stronger force was deemed necessary and the additional boats were ordered. Attacks by the Hunanese on merchant vessels carrying Hupeh troops have been common but as yet have not become frequent enough to seriously disturb navigation.

Troops Guard Pass By Which Army May Come

(China Press Correspondence)

Kuling, August 5.—Arrivals from Nanchang today report the city to be in an unsettled and apprehensive state. Tuchun Chen Kuang-yuan is reported to have sent his wife from the city, three quarters of his troops have been dispatched to Pingsiang on the Hunan border and to the south to guard the pass into Kwangtung, those remaining in the city are almost entirely recruits.

Military preparations are not being made to aid General Wang but to intercept the movements of Li Lieh-chuen who is popularly believed to have had his eyes constantly upon the Tuchunate of Kiangsi since he was driven out by Li Shun five years ago.

This is not the first time that the return of Li has been expected this year in Nanchang, and it remains to be seen if the present scare has any more foundation than did the one earlier in the spring. At present the city fears a looting much more than it fears the arrival of General Li.

Wang's Men Advise Him Not To Force Decision

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, August 1.—Warfare along the Hupeh-Hunan border is in progress, and the allied forces of Hupehese and Hunanese against Tuchun Wang have scored repeated successes against Wang's men. In the first conflict at Chaolichiao, Wang lost the day, and retreated quite a distance. The allied men are attacking Wang's men rigorously and have advanced considerably from their initial line.

Wang was enraged to the extent of determining to fight a decisive battle but his subordinates advised him to desist. General Sun Chuan-fang is now in the front with Wang's broken second division and his eighth division. As the forces are not showing much real strength, Wang has sent a man to interview General Chin Yun-ao, Prime Minister Chin Yun-peng's brother, who arrived here last week with a brigade of soldiers. This man inquired into Chin's attitude intimating Wang's expectancy of his immediate help.

Apparently Wang is not able to move his rescuers with freedom, as all are only half-hearted in fighting his cause. However, he is pooling his resources in a life and death struggle to retain his power and prestige. He has recently appointed his relative, Mr. Kuo as director concurrently of the Government Mint, the Hupeh Specie Bank and Bureau of Military Supplies, to keep money and arms handy.

Mixed Court Jottings

Seven men charged as being members of a gang of armed robbers which is credited with nine recent robberies and two cases of attempted murder appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday and were remanded in custody for two weeks to allow the police to try and locate others implicated.

A Cantonese seaman who, among other abnormalities, boasts the possession of six toes per foot was sentenced to five years' imprisonment yesterday for burgling, or attempting to burgle, ten foreign residences. His efforts were successful in seven instances, according to police testimony, but he was caught while packing up a quantity of loot in the home of Captain Jones, 18 Yuhang Road. The marauder's system of entry was invariably the same: he would paste a sheet of paper over a section of a window pane, break the glass beneath it and unfasten the catch. Among the residences favored with visits were those of Messrs. J. B. Montgomery, 191 Miller Road; Engleman, 19 Haining Road; Pickle, 139, Range Road; Nakajima, 10 Haufok Terrace; Dr. Parker, 19 Quinsan Road; Watson, 37 Boone Road; Atkinson, 6 Thorne Road and J. Melachlan, 39 East Seward Road. The accused admitted seven instances but indignantly denied the rest.

Two operatives of a Hwo Wei lottery at 1216 Woosung Road were fined $30 each and another man charged with running a similar institution at 523 Shanhaikwan Road forfeited $50 bail money by not appearing. Twenty-two patrons of the two lotteries were fined $5 each.

The proprietor of an opium den at 195 North Szechuen Road was fined $50.

William Brenan, a seaman, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment for begging on the Kiangse Road. The accused, who appears to be well educated and well conducted, said that inability to obtain work and consequent destitution had forced him to beg.

who ever entered the country with the message of Christianity. For many years he was bishop at Ning Yuan Fu, and monuments to his zeal still flourish in the Roman Catholic mission churches. He is one of the few men, either Chinese or foreign, to cross the Lolo country, which he did in 1906. He reduced the Lolo language to writing, and has contributed many scholarly tracts on the Chinese and tribal peoples of Szechuen. Mgr. de Guebriant comes from a noble family in Brittainy, and has given his entire fortune to philanthropic and Christian mission work.

Police And Courts Make Drive Against Speeding Motorists

Japanese Fined Five Yen And Warned That License May Be Forfeited

Reckless driving of motor cars will be stopped in Shanghai if the efforts of the police and the various courts are effective.

A step in that direction was taken yesterday morning when the judge of the Japanese police court fined a chauffeur five yen for cutting a corner at North Soochow and North Szechuen Roads. The car narrowly escaped hitting a rickshaw containing a foreigner.

In his imposition of sentence the Japanese judge arraigned the chauffeur severely for his carelessness and threatened that further violations of the traffic regulations would be punished by the revocation of the man's license to drive.

Sergeant Hermitage of the Municipal Police Traffic Squad prosecuted the case.

Send Force To Get Way Clear To Taolin

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 5.—In a joint despatch to the High Military Council, Generals Tsen Fen and Chang Ching-huei state that in view of the fact that Ungern and allied Mongolian forces have evacuated the district north of Pangchiang it is advisable to organise a detachment, consisting of men from the 16th and 28th Divisions, to march to Upeh and clear the way for an advance to Taolin.

Express Runs Into Holiday Train But Many Escape Death

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 7.—A railway accident at Selby—an important junction on the North-Eastern main line in Yorkshire—only narrowly escaped resulting in appalling loss of life. An express from Newcastle to London dashed into a stationary train of holiday-makers, the rear coaches of which, packed with luggage, took the impact and were hurled at a signal-box, which was demolished. Three signalmen saved their lives by jumping out. The total casualties were three persons seriously injured, and a number who sustained only slight injuries.

PROGRAM OF THE INSTITUTE HAS NOTED SPEAKERS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 5.—Professor Kiam, of Peking Union Medical College Department of Chinese Literature, has just received word from Mr. Li Chin-hui that he will leave Shanghai on August 13 and arrive in Peking in time for the opening of the Institute to take charge of the classes in Kuo Yu and Kuo Wen.

Formerly Mr. Li was in the Ministry of Education lecturing on the Chinese language, phonetics, and methods of teaching these branches in primary schools. At present he is a member of the editorial board of the Chung Hua Book Company.

At a meeting of the Association of Teachers of Chinese held in connection with the last annual meeting of the Chihli-Shansi Christian Educational Association Mr. Li delivered an address that was so well received by the Association that they heartily recommended Mr. Li as the man best fitted to undertake this work in the Institute to be held from August 16 to 30 at the Presbyterian Mission, Erh Tiao Hutung. In response to their earnest invitation Mr. Li agreed to come to Peking for the Institute.

The other classes to be given regularly are: Games and Play in Lower Primary Schools, conducted by Miss Eda Redo of the Peking Y.W.C.A.; and Teaching Arithmetic and Abacus to Young Children, to be conducted by Miss Wang Jui-hsiang, Supervisor of the American Board Lower Primary Schools.

Lectures will be given each evening by Professor Ma Chiang, Mr. Wu Lan-ti, Miss Elizabeth C. McCoy, Rev. Charles H. Corbett and Dean Lucius C. Porter.

Fifty-five teachers have already registered for the Institute. The Chairman of the Institute Committee is Mr. Ernest T. Shaw, American Board Mission, Peking.

ROBBERS FREE CAPTURED MAN

(China Press Correspondence)

Tunghaihsien, July 29.—This part of North Kiangsu is not sustaining its record for a good Summer climate and freedom from "tu fei" and other bandits. There has been a month of continuous rains followed by a stormy, hot atmosphere quite unusual in the "City by the Sea."

The country to the West is flooded and the fall crops almost a total failure, so that we are facing, at least, a near-famine. The excellent wheat harvest may save the people from starving.

The robbers are plundering the country, killing when necessary to do so to obtain their ends. In this they are nobly assisted by the soldiers, who always fail to capture the real culprits. Very recently a soldier was brought to the Mission Hospital with quite a serious gun shot wound. His tale was most remarkable, as follows:

A detachment of soldiers captured six robbers and took them to camp where they were securely bound and disarmed. In a short time there was great confusion outside the camp, and a band of robbers rushed in, cut the bonds and rescued their comrades. This wounded soldier was given a parting salute from a pistol in the hand of one of the men who was supposed to have been disarmed.

PROBE OPIUM HABIT

The officials also are having their troubles. The edict has gone forth that each Hsien official shall go to Nanking to be examined as to his opium habit. The Official in the Hsien just south of us duly reported himself to Nanking, but being wise in his generation, he carried a supply of pills up his big sleeve.

The story goes that he was taken into a private room, stripped of his clothes, clad in a bathrobe and escorted to the hospital for three days observation. As he was a heavy smoker, before the three days were over he was naturally "all in" and therefore "all out."

The Hsien to the North has a most efficient official, despite that he indulges most liberally i the drug. No robbers dare disturb his district. He is feared and admired far and wide. His reply to the request to go to Nanking was that nothing would induce him to go there, and that his resignation was ready at any time they wanted it. This the government dares not accept.

Help From Any Source Welcome Says Soviet

London, August 6.—M. Tchitcherin, the Soviet Foreign Minister, has circularised all the Governments, saying that the Russian Government will accept help from any source, disregarding all existing political relations. He adds that ten provinces, with a total population of 18,000,000 have been officially recognised as famine-stricken, the drought having destroyed the harvest or leaving a yield of only 10 to 15 percent above the average. A million tons of food supplies from abroad are needed to maintain the population on half rations, states M. Tchitcherin, who asserts that no disorders have occurred.

Want Dyes Banned In Favor of U.S. Works

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 7.—The Secretary of War (Mr. J. W. Weeks) and the Secretary of the Navy (Mr. Edwin Denby) have written to the Finance Committee of the Senate in favor of the retention in the pending Fordney Tariff Bill of the embargo on dyes and chemicals which the House of Representatives struck out. The argument of the Secretaries was that the interests of national defense required the encouragement of chemical industries which might be diverted in time of war to the manufacture of gases used in warfare and explosives.

KIANG SHUN HAS SATISFYING RUN ON TRIAL TRIP

New China Merchants' Ship, Built By Old Dock, Makes Fine Showing

The twin-screw steamer Kiang Shun, built and engined by the Shanghai Dock and Engineering Co., Ltd., to the order of the China Merchants S. N. Co. for service between Shanghai and Hankow, and a sister ship to the Kiang An which was delivered a few months ago, successfully ran her official trials on Saturday outside Woosung.

The Kiang Shun measures 340 feet long by 47 feet moulded breadth and 24 feet 6 inches depth to upper deck and is propelled by two independent sets of triple expansion surface condensing engines of 3,200 indicated horse power. The passenger accommodation is large and luxuriously furnished, and the vessel throughout is fitted with the most up-to-date fittings and requirements of a modern Yangtsze cargo and passenger steamer.

The ship left the Old Dock at 10:30 a.m. with a large party of guests on board and after proceeding down the river at easy speed to the official measured mile outside Woosung the engines were opened out to their full power and during the runs over the mile course the average mean speed attained was considerably in excess of the contract. After being successfully tried for maneuvering qualities the Kiang Shun returned to Shanghai and reached the Old Dock wharf at 7 p.m., the trials having proved entirely successful in every respect. The appearance and finish of the vessel are up to the dock company's usual high standard of excellence and drew forth most favorable comments from all on board.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

During the trip an interesting illustration of the dock company's long shipbuilding record and connection with the owners of the Kiang Shun occurred, when the twin-screw coasting steamer Kwangchi, built and engined by the dock company 34 years ago for the China Merchants Company, passed outward bound to sea, looking spick and span after her long term of service, and giving eloquent testimony to the work of Shanghai shipbuilders.

Another large passenger steamer for the same owners, to run between Shanghai and Ningpo, will be launched in about two weeks from the dock company's Pootung shipyard.

TRIBESMEN MAY RISE

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 7.—According to advices from Morocco, the news of recent events in the Spanish zone has created excitement among the discontented tribesmen of the Wazan region, in the French zone. Several attacks have been delivered and repulsed. Precautions are being taken against a more general rising.

Russian Soviets Give Famine Relief Power

(Delta News Agency)

Moscow, August 2.—All-Russian Executive Committee has given vast powers to the famine relief committee in Soviet Russia, comprising of sixty-three representatives from all classes. The committee is similar to a Red Cross organisation and is self-governing. It is empowered to secure independently Russian and foreign foodstuffs, medicines and other articles, establish stations for distributing relief, enjoy priority in railway facilities, and to find employment for the stricken people. Donations and subscriptions both in money and in kind and government grants are received by the committee.

The activities of the committee is not subject to government control but the committee reports directly to the All-Russian Executive Committee. Organising and administrative methods of the committee are determined at regular meetings.

A publications department has been organised for issuing leaflets, appeals, bulletins, etc. Mr. Korolenko, the famous writer, has been elected honorary chairman of the department and Mr. Maxim Gorky has been sent abroad as the sole representative. Mr. Kamenev has been elected chairman.

While abolishing food taxation in the famine-stricken provinces, the All-Russian Executive Committee has authorised the local authorities to collect taxes in parts of those provinces yielding a fair harvest for distribution among the sufferers.

In response to the Government's call for help in the famine districts, the "Centrosoyus" (Central Co-operative Society) after a conference sent a declaration to the All-Russian Executive Committee, stating that they appreciate the problems caused by the famine in several provinces and demanding the utmost exertions. The Centrosoyus is ready to strain every effort for the relief of the unfortunate people.

Russians Ask British For Credit Extension

Escorting Destroyers Await Troopers Mutiny

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—That Spain is determined not to follow the advice to clear out of Africa—which has freely been tendered in the British and French press after the recent reverse at Melilla—appears from an official Madrid despatch. After admitting the possibility of the fall of General Navarro and his troops, who are still holding out at Monte Arruit, the despatch says:

"This, however disagreeable, will not affect the offensive operations by General Berenguer, for which sufficient troops are concentrating at Melilla. The recovery of the whole territory recently lost is confidently expected."

Despatches from Paris, however, show that there are difficulties ahead. They declare that a mutiny of recruits on board a troopship from Valencia en route for Morocco recently was only quelled by the intervention of two destroyers. Escorting destroyers, it is stated, now train their guns on troopships crossing the Mediterranean.

SPANISH CABINET TOTTERS

Madrid, August 6.—The situation in Morocco has caused a cabinet crisis. It is expected that Senor Maura will form a cabinet.

LABOR LEADERS IN PRISON FOR STRIKE ON WAGES

Poor Pilgrims Must Walk Six Li On Their Climb To Top Of Fuji

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Kobe, August 8.—The Mitsubishi dockyard workers have refused terms of mediation offered by the Governor and no settlement is yet in sight.

Tokio, Aug. 3.—According to the Kokumin, T. Kagawa and other Labor leaders, to the number of 88, were imprisoned on August 1.

All the workmen employed by the Eastern Asia Electric Company, Shimo-Shibuya, Tokio, to the number of about 280, have gone on strike. They demand higher wages and one holiday a week, as well as the three greatest national holidays on full wages. Their demands have not been accedod to, and ten of the leaders have been arrested.

All the employes of the Fuji Electric Tramway Company in Yamanashi Prefecture struck on the 1st instant, as their demands of a 50 percent increase of wages was not accepted by the directors.

The stoppage of cars was a source of much annoyance to climbers of Mount Fuji, thousands of whom were compelled to walk a distance of six ri to the terminus. There seems to be little likelihood of an immediate settlement, despito the efforts of the police and the directors of the company.

Tokio, Aug. 2.—The only satisfactory solution of the present labor troubles is the adoption of a profit-sharing system, by which the profits of joint-stock companies should be distributed between the management, the shareholders and the workers, is the statement attributed to Viscount Takahashi, Minister of Finance, by the Tokio Asahi.

The Finance Minister, when seen by the Asahi reporter, said that, while the present trouble must be attributed to the introduction of foreign ideas of the relationship between labor and capital, a certain share of the responsibility must be with the capitalists, who have not yet learned to appreciate true value of labor, but worked inconsiderately for the promotion of their own interests.

The workmen, he thought, should be made more familiar with the circumstances under which their employers' business is being conducted. The greater the confidence reposed in the workers, the more would be the efficiency of their work, and the more would they study economy in methods of production.

With the present high cost of living and the increasing difficulties of daily life that the people generally were facing, it behoved both employers and workmen to pay more attention to reducing the cost of production.

At the time of the recent strike by the electric light workers of Osaka, said Viscount Takahashi, the Company inquired into the question of how few workmen were required to keep up the necessary supply of electricity to the city, and discovered that the work could be satisfactorily carried out by one-third the number of those employed. That was only an example, he said, to show how loose the management of the company had been in the past, and how extravagant it had been in labor costs.

Armerica Honest But Japan Hae's Her Dou't

London, August 6.—An authoritative Japanese source which claims to interpret opinion in Japan as regards the Washington Conference, declares that at the present moment, although American earnestness and disinterestedness are generally taken for granted, there is a certain current of opinion unfavorable to the American proposition, because, although theoretically it is regarded with complete approval, it is felt that a practical result cannot be reckoned upon with confidence.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 6.—The American Charge d'Affaires this morning notified Count Uchida, Minister for Foreign Affairs, that the Pacific Conference would be held in Washington on Armistice Day, November 11. The Japanese Foreign Minister has expressed his consent as to the date and place.

It is expected that, on the return of Mr. Hara, Prime Minister, from Morioka, the Government will issue a formal acceptance.

Cotton Growers Unite To Uphold Market

(Reuter's Service)

New York, July 8 (by mail).—An official of the American Cotton Association announces the formation of the American Cotton-Growers' Exchange for the purpose of marketing cotton under proper pooling arrangements for the sale of the staple. He says, with the present minimum membership contract being signed up in each state, it will mean a grand total of 3,000,000 bales of cotton to be handled and marketed absolutely under an iron-clad agreement for the next five years.

It remains to be seen how this plan will work out. Similar efforts among grain farmers were not very successful, because the farmer objected to tying himself up with an ironbound contract to let someone else sell his product for him. Nevertheless, producers everywhere are seeking some solution of what appears to them wasteful methods of marketing their crops, and if successful it should mean at least a moderately higher level of prices over the present competitive system.

New York, July 8 (by mail).—A prominent spot firm in Dallas, Texas, which recently made a thorough investigation of cotton conditions in the State found the labor supply to be ample, but that farmers were unable to fight boll weevil with poison, owing to a lack of funds. They found that farmers were holding very little cotton, most of it being held at concentration points either by large merchants or exporters who have hedged it, and that the lower grades were very scarce everywhere.

The small crop forecast of the Government on July 1 caused quite a general change in sentiment among speculative traders, who realised that if domestic and European demand should spring up suddenly on anything like a normal basis the carryover would be rapidly reduced, and the sharp curtailment in the South would be greatly emphasised as a market factor. It was pointed out by bulls also that the most trying period of the crop is ahead and that any serious drawback to conditions, such as seems likely to occur by reason of boll weevil, would almost surely precipitate a heavy speculative buying movement. It is believed in many quarters that unfavorable European conditions have been pretty well discounted in the price.

It is true that attention is called to the fact that in many European countries, particularly Germany, the people have become so accustomed to using substitutes for cotton that it is no hardship for them to continue the practice, and in many cases the substitutes will doubtless permanently replace cotton. While finances remain so unsettled, they will doubtless also make replacements of cotton articles only when absolutely necessary, but, after all is said and done, the prevailing opinion, since the Government report, is unquestionably more favorable to the market.

Maj. C P. Holcomb To Be Honor Guest Of Bar Associates

Arrangements have been completed for the banquet of welcome that is to be given to Maj. C. P. Holcomb, United States District Attorney, who has just returned from the United States after a leave of absence of six months. The banquet has been arranged by members of the American Far Eastern Bar Association and friends of the official and will be held tomorrow evening at the Astor House.

Tsar Would Approve Avers Prince Paul

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 7.—Prince Paul of Oldenburg, a nephew of the late Tsar, makes a moving appeal in the press on behalf of eighty millions of people in Russia who, he says, "are face to face with famine and pestilence, and in such dire miseries that political considerations must be swept aside." He adds that, if the Tsar were alive, he would endorse Maxim Gorki's plea.

9TH CAVALRY IN SHANGHAI; PLAY TODAY

Manila Team Delayed On Road Arrive At 7 a.m.

GAME SET FOR 4.30

Shanghai Primed For Year's Baseball Classic

A six-game series of baseball games, which will try to its utmost the strength and talent of the Shanghai Baseball Club will begin this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when the local nine takes the field against the Ninth Cavalry, champions of the Manila leagues, fresh from a sweeping tour of North China.

The Cavalry team was scheduled to arrive in Shanghai from Peking and Tientsin early this morning on the belated night train. They will just have time to rest and to practice a bit before the calling of this afternoon's game.

Shanghai is in almost perfect preparation for the visit of the Cavalrymen. All of their twirlers are working at their strongest; four catchers are in their best condition, and a team can be put out in support of the battery that has a batting strength of more than .350 percent.

The only disappointment as to playing condition is the unfortunate injury of Mal Maloney. Mal has not yet gotten his playing legs after his sprain gotten Saturday a week ago in sliding through the pod into second. He is almost ready, but not quite. He may play Thursday or Friday. He will certainly be in the game Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the Shanghai Baseball Club will be admitted without cost to the Ninth Cavalry Series. They must however have their membership tickets with them for presentation at the game. The shroff cannot remember all of the 500 members so insists upon seeing the ticket. A failure to present the card will mean that an admission of $2.00 will be demanded.

A charge to non-members will be made, at $2.00 per game, or $5.00 for the series. Tickets may be obtained from Secretary Wilson, at the Pacific Mail Steamship offices at 1 Nanking Road, or at the gate. Additions to the grandstands have been made at the park to accommodate 1,600 fans. There will be room for all.

The Ninth Cavalry team which starts a series here today with the Shanghai Baseball club has played nine games in North China before taking the train for Shanghai. Of these the Manila men have won seven.

They have just closed a series at Peking with the United States Legation Marine Guard, which they won in easy fashion by two straight games, the first 5-2, and the second by a 11-0 shut-out. The third game was given over to shadow or pantomine baseball, a comedy exhibition of ball-less baseball, which the negro players have developed into a clever and scientifically accurate entertainment.

The Cavalrymen's record in China for this tour follows:

Won over 15th Infantry, 7-1.
Won over Osaka Diamonds, 4-0.
Won over Tientsin All Stars, 8-4.
Won over Tientsin Civilians, 6-0.
Won over Tientsin All Stars, 6-2.
Won over Marines, 5-2.
Won over Marines, 11-0.
Lost to 15th Infantry, 2-1.
Lost to 15th Infantry, 4-2.

The 15th Infantry is the only team in China that has beaten the Cavalry. Their series with the Ninth resulted two games out of three in their favor.

ENGLAND PICKS CRICKET TEAM FOR LAST STAND

Fifth Test Match Against The Australians Set For Next Saturday

HOBBS WAS NOT INVITED

Greatest Batsman Has Not Yet Recovered From Recent Illness

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—The following have been asked to be present at the Oval for the fifth test match on Saturday next: Major L. H. Tennyson, captain; P. G. Fender; J. W. H. T. Douglas; Woolley; Mead; Brown; Russell; Tyldesley (Ernest); Parkin; Hallows; Hearne and Parker. Another player will also be invited.

(BY GOOGLIE)

The fifth and last Test Match begins on Saturday next and a team to meet the visitors has already been picked. The results so far have not been creditable to the All England side. The usual question out here from our Australians is "What is the matter with English cricket?" I am inclined to think that it is Warwick Armstrong. He seems to be the ideal captain as well as the best of mascots. Once or twice it really looked as of an English county would beat the visitors and then when all seemed to be going well it either rained or Armstrong got busy and put it all over his opponents.

Three of the Test Matches went without any doubt to the Aussies. The fourth looked as if the English might get one point. Nothing doing! It rained.

And now for the selection for the fifth and last game. There has been a good deal of agitation in the papers to elect C. B. Fry, the wonderful all round athlete, the man who jumped his twenty three feet when at Oxford and thus created a record, the man who played international football, the man who has represented two countries and England at cricket, the man who could hold his own with the best at lawn tennis, and the man who was generally in the first flight when the hounds followed the horses at the big-hunts—and again the man who during the war trained the finest bunch of boys on the training ship Mercury that any institution has ever turned out. Fry! Every boy, young and old thrills at his name. He is forty nine years of age. He has played cricket this season and has made great scores. He has already been invited to play again for England despite his fifty minus one years, but he asked to be excused that his place might be taken by a younger man.

Tennyson of Hampshire will again captain the team. He will have two other members of his county to help him out. Brown is one of the steadiest of first wicket batsmen and then there is Mead. Mead is a wonder. He has been scoring runs for the last ten years or more. One of the recent papers from England tell of a brilliant innings in which the Hampshire crack gathered 113 in the first innings and 224 in the second against Sussex. He deserves his place all right.

J. W. H. T. Douglas. (In other words "Johnny Won't Hit To Day") is again in the team and if he is not skipper he is good enough with bat, ball or in the field to represent any cricket side in the word. No wonder Essex is proud of him. By the way some of us remember that he has been one of England's finest amateur boxers and the writer remembers vividly the splendid showing he once put up against the ex-champion professionalist Jack Johnson. At one time he also got a decision over the well known Aussie Snowey Baker with the leather gloves and inside the roped square.

One is sorry to see the absence of Hobbs from the English side. He is recognised as the greatest of all English batsmen today. Against Yorkshire, one of the strongest of England's counties he scored 172 at the end of June. His absence is probably due to his recent severe illness.

Wooley of Kent, Hearne of Middlesex and Hallows of Lancashire are all well seasoned players and from recent showings call for a place in the team. Russell of Essex—the same team from which Douglas hails—is a tremendous bat. Against Northampton he played the innings of his life less than two months ago—and this was this first appearance after a severe illness. He followed up a personal record of 197 against Middlesex last year with the phenomenal score of 273 against Northampton.

Fender is the Surrey captain. He carries on the traditions of Leverson Gower and Lord Dalmeny—in other words he is out to win every time and to hit hard. Ernest Tydlesley comes from a famous Lancashire family and can be relied

SOCONY LOSES TO SHANGHAI BY A SCORE OF 8-4

Errors By Hong Leaguers Discount Pitching Advantage

Shanghai's best available batteries working for the Socony Baseball Club Sunday against the Shanghai team gave the Big Nine a good idea of what sort of pitching and catching other opposing teams have had to contend with this season, and incidentally how they will look as they lob up to the pan this afternoon to the Cavalrymen. Merrill and Terry, both working strong, and Roeser and Hoag behind the bat, in relays, filled out the Socony lineup. Dennison was not out.

The Socony-Shanghai game was a workout both for the Shanghai team and for the Standard Oil men. The latter managed to collect six hits off Merrill and Terry in six innings for a total of eight runs. The Socony men got some needed practice, their first workout in a game this season, and in spite of Shanghai's defense they got over four runs on five bingles.

Bristow and Crow were the only men to hit the farmed-out Shanghai pitchers, with any consistency. They each got two safe wallops. Hendrickson and Pruitt each registered one. Other Shanghai batsmen were helpless. The day's record spoke good for Merrill and Terry.

The Socony team, appearing on the field Sunday for the first time this season, naturally showed ragged in frequent spots. However the nine ranks well up with other Hong Leaguers, and in Hong League games can give a good account of itself.

Georges Lost With A Smile But Victor Always Frowned

New York, July 4.—The "battle of the century" turned out to be in many aspects the great battle of the rink. It surpassed all other bouts, championship or otherwise, in the spectacle that it afforded and the international interest it aroused.

The aftermath is nearly as interesting as the actual happenings in Tex Rickard's enormous arena. Jack Dempsey has discovered that he has won another victory. Georges Carpentier has found that losing gallantly has its compensations and rewards. The American public has been reminded that the lead pipe is a better weapon than the rapier in a cloce-locked, hand-to-hand encounter.

But Carpentier's rapier, frail as it was, might have gone home had the mind behind used better generalship. One of the contributing factors to the French soldier's defeat was faulty strategy. Georges made a false move when he carried the fight to Dempsey in the first round. At close quarters Carpentier was the helpless victim of a fighter who is probably the master of all heavyweights, past and present, in the tactics of infighting. Wrapped in the vise of Dempsey's powerful arms, the Frenchman probably wished he had stayed at longer range. But the damage was done in the first round and what happened later was almost inevitable.

Students of the fistic art who had predicted that Dempsey's unpopularity and Carpentier's popularity with the American people would hurt the champion have been proved poor psychologists. Dempsey may have believed before the bout that his supposed unpopularity was only a chimera, a figment of the imagination. But he could hardly have thought this after he had entered the ring and found his own people on the side of the alien. Then the champion scowled a scowl that had behind it resentment against the verdict of the country and perhaps hatred, for the moment, of the smiling, bowing debonair Frenchman, waving to the crowd.

So the champion with a scowl went in and crushed the challenge with a smile. It is a tribute to Carpentier that, while he lost his championship dream, he retained his smile, which he still wore, snakily but gallantly, after he had recovered from the effects of those devastating blows. It is not well for the challenger to smile and the champion to scowl. It would have been better for Carpentier if Dempsey had left his corner with a bland smile, sluggishly conscious of his prowess and serene in the knowledge that the crowd and the country were behind him. Jeffries smiled at Reno, Johnson smiled at Havana, Willard smiled at Toledo. Dempsey scowled and kept his championship.

HEXAMER WINS SUNDAY'S CLAY PIGEON SHOOT

Breaks 37 Out Of 40 In Spite Of Typhoon Wind Handicap

With the high total of 37 breaks out of a possible 40, scored in a typhoon-like wind, A. W. Hexamer on Sunday captured the Holiday Cup competition of the Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club. Hexamer with his handicap allowance of 1 bird had a score of 38. His nearest competitor was Nazer with 31 breaks, with a handicap of 3 ½, for a total of 34 ½.

The Holiday Cup which was presented by the President of the Club was shot under special handicap drawn up by the president. Conditions were 40 birds, half of which were shot under Murray Cup requirements.

The following are the scores:—

Hexamer	37	plus 1	—38
Nazer	31	plus 3½	—34½
Gibson	33	plus 1	—34
Pirie	27	plus 7	—34
Himrod	29	plus 5	—34
Algar	30	plus 3½	—33½
Read	31	plus 1½	—32½
Bruce	20	plus 9	—29
Bates	20	plus 8	—28

For next Sunday's shoot the "D. D." Cup has been presented by a member. The competition will start at 4:30 and the conditions will be similar to the above.

SHIMIDZU WINS OVER JOHNSON IN 6 STRAIGHT SETS

Australians Win Davis Cup Finals By Three Rubbers To England's Two

(Reuter's Service)

Newport, August 4.—Zenzo Shimidzu, the Japanese tennis champion, defeated Wallace F. Johnson in six straight sets in the Casino tournament.

Pittsburg, August 6.—The final matches in the Davis Cup contest betwen the British Isles and Australasia were played today. Each team won one rubber, the result being thus a win for Australasia by three rubbers to two. The scores were as follows:

Anderson, Australasia, beat Gordon Lowe, British Isles, 6-2, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—In today's doubles match between Anderson and Todd, Australasia, and Woosnam and Turnbull, British Isles, in connection with the Davis Cup competition, Todd's service was deadly, whereas Anderson's lacked precision and force, though his placing was most effective. The Englishmen's team work was excellent, but Woosnam was unable to match the speed of Turnbull, and the former's back-court play was erratic.

Woosnam, British Isles, beat Hawkes, Australasia, 6-3, 0-6, 7-9, 6-3, 6-3.

Lowe was unable to withstand his opponent's terrific serving. The Englishman was guilty of a number of double faults in the early games, but showed greater strength during the second set, especially in the sixth and seventh games, in the latter of which deuce was called six times.

Woosnam won the final match by superior work at the net.

BRAID'S FOUR WINS

Semi-Final Rink Game Set For Next Sunday; Bain Favorite

BY "THE SHOT"

Quite an enjoyable game was the match between the Club and the Juniors Sunday at Hongkew and although the latter lost by a substantial margin some very good play was witnessed.

The boisterous wind was no doubt very comforting to the spectators but on many occasions the players would deliver a wood only to see it do a jazz on its own and land in the ditch or the next rink.

Alex Braid's rink was the only one to win for the homesters and it was well deserved as his team played splendidly. Albert Taylor played some very fine shots but to no purpose. The last shot by Crewe Read deserved a better fate as he trailed the jack to a bunch of his woods lying behind but in doing so he pushed one of the Juniors bowls in the bunch and only lay one and Alex with his last wood was equal to laying the shot.

The two Yangtszepoo pairs had

CRICKETER AT TIENTSIN LIKES DIAMOND TEAM

Its Win Over Civvies Was A Most Delightfully Jolly Affair

Tientsin, July 28.—A most delightfully jolly game of baseball eventuated on the classic grounds of the Recreation Club yesterday afternoon between the Diamond Team of Japan and the Tientsin Civilians.

The game was called at 4.15 and the Diamonds winning the toss went first to the wickets. The Civilians looked fine and husky as they took the field and it was very fortunate because it was the only time they looked that-a-way. Mori-san was the first batsman and he never paid enough attention to the Civilian bowler and got out Leg before wicket the first over. The next man up played a beautiful slice to the on and got it past Slips by a foot and got to the first rounder safe. He got to the next rounder later on when the bowler was not looking. This got the Bowler mad and when the Wicketkeeper forgot to hurl the ball to the chap on the third rounder next time he decided to resign in favor of another jolly Bowler.

WHITE HOPE LACKED PUNCH

This White Hope gave promise of great things to come and the Spectators were glad to see him and urgently requested him to "Kill Him," "Hit him on the Head" and other kind and friendly suggestions regarding the inoffensive Batsman. He could not though have been quite positive as to where the Wicket was because he Bowled Three Wides, Two Byes, One High and Lofty one and a Dinky one that the Batsman Smote right in the Middle and enabled the Chap that had been waiting patiently on the Third Rounder to run right Home.

There was a whole lot of this went on and this Bowler must have sprained his Peritonitis or something for he went off and they got another; they must be full of Bowlers.

The Civilians at the Wickets were worth going miles to see. There was a Chap named Willie or Harold and some well disposed Spectator offered him a Box of Chocolates if he would only just tip the Ball. He did and it went right into Mid-on's Hands and he never got the Chocolates. Most of the Civvie Batsmen looked as if they would have done better if they had a Foot or two more on to the end of their Bats, they never seemed to be able to reach far enough to poke the Ball.

ALMOST MADE A CENTURY

Some very helpful suggestions were made to them by various onlookers but they could not have paid any attention to these well meaning efforts for they failed to score. Of course it is quite possible that the Japs had something to do with this but one never knows, and it is quite on the Cards that they could have scored if they liked—on a piece of paper.

The Japs went in for the Second Innings and knocked up Six Runs and one of them looked as if he was set for a Century, only his lungs gave out. He made a lovely hit to Leg and the Dear Old Thing that was fielding out there caught two quarts of distilled atmosphere and let the Ball slide. He was told to get a Bag whether it was for His Head or Feet one could not be sure as they both looked as big as one another. It was wonderful to see how these Civilians could pass that Dinky Ball all round. It would go from the Bowler to the Wicketkeeper, he would send it with unfailing accuracy to about two yards away from the Second Rounder Keeper and the fellow fielding Mid Field would get it and send it to the Chap on the Third Rounder and he would look pained and hurt and rub it on his pants: I forgot to mention that whilst this was going on there were a whole lot of Japs running round the Sand bags like Billy-ho.

Oh it was a Great Game and they brought them all into it for when the Civilians got tired of changing Bowlers they changed the Umpire. We never got our money back but there was one tense, exciting, delicious moment when it looked like as if we had a chance but they had changed the money-taker and we had to walk home.

a bitter struggle as to who should enter the semi-final and in the end Sandy Malcolm and Willie Bissett succumbed by the odd point. I did not witness the match but I understand the game was worthy of the reputation of the whole four players.

The winners now meet A. A. MacAllum and T. Harborne who I omitted to mention in my last note, with MacAllum playing on the top of his form and Harborne who never varies and is as steady as a rock, the Yangtszepoo pair will have their work cut out to win. This will be a game worth watching and for one shall be there.

I understand the semi-final rink game between the holders and Charlie Richard's team takes place next Sunday at Hongkew Park. Charlie has any amount of confidence in his lads and is not considering defeat for a moment. Personally I think that if the scoring is close towards the end of the game the Waysiders may win, as Charlie does not possess nerves and will probably be the deciding factor. On the other hand Bain's team is so strong that one must admit it looks as they must enter the final.

upon. Parkin—one of the most talked of cricketers as well as one of the greatest bowlers of the age—comes from the Red Rose County. He has done those things that in cricket he ought not to have done but he has also done many things that he ought to have done in splendid style. He is a disciple of the great Staffordshire bowler Barnes. Hallows is another Lancashire man and a very fast bowler.

Warwickshire Gets 96 For 6 Wickets Against Australia

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

London, August 6.—The Australians opened a match against Warwickshire at Birmingham today. The weather was dull, and the wicket was affected by rain, which considerably interfered with play. When stumps were drawn, at 5:20, Warwickshire had scored 96 for six wickets, Charlesworth being the chief contributor, with 51. Some 8,000 spectators were present.

Dying Pickle King Aids Sunday Schools With Big Bequests

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 6.—The will of the late Pittsburg "Pickle King," Mr. Henry Heinz, has been proved. The English estate is of the nominal value of £1, while the American estate is valued at $4,000,000.

The will opens with an earnest confession of faith in Christ. It bequeaths £50,000 to the University of Pittsburg; £25,000 each to the International Sunday School Association, Chicago, and the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association; £20,000 to the World's Sunday School Association, New York, other large sums to hospitals and religious institutions, and £4,000 to his secretary, Mr. McCafferty, "in recognition of his integrity and Christian character."

Where Is New U.S. Minister? Peking Legation Inquires

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, August 6.—The American Legation was today planning to send out a dispatch to learn the exact whereabouts of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, new Minister to China. Nothing definite has been heard by the legation and the date of his arrival in Peking is not known.

Some time ago it was reported that he had sailed on the S.S. Empire State but later reports say he did not sail as reported but had engaged passage on another boat.

All of the reports are unofficial and as the arrival of the Empire State approaches the legation staff is eager to know whether the new Minister is aboard.

Huai River Flood Stopping Elections

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 5.—Mr. Liu Chien-yung and other residents of North Anhui have telegraphed to the Government reporting that recent rains have swollen the Huai River to such an extent that communication between many villages has been interrupted. The primary elections to Provincial Assembly, therefore, have been interfered with and the petitioners ask for the elections to be postponed for one month. Mr. Liu and his colleagues add that the elections were progressing favorably when the floods caused the interruption.

Unofficial Raid On Domino Game Has Mixed Results

Late Sunday night while a quartette of Chinese were playing dominoes at 493 Chungking Road four men entered the place and scooped the stakes, amounting to $4.50, off the table. As the intruders were departing, the players threw themselves upon the rearmost, subdued him and roped him securely to a chair. About the time they had accomplished the feat the man's companions returned armed with an axe, and tried to effect a rescue. There was a general melee and two of the inmates of the house were rather badly cut, but the captive was retained and was turned over to the police when the latter arrived. The other three men escaped.

GOVERNS HOTUNG SALT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 5.—A mandate issued today appoints Mr. Chang Ing-hua Commissioner of the Hotung salt district in Shantung. Mr. Chang is an English graduate and as Salt Commissioner for Szechuen introduced many reforms in the salt administration there.

It has lately been suggested that he should be made chief of the salt guards throughout China, and that appointment is said to be still pending. Owing to the amount of smuggling recently carried on in Shantung Mr. Chang has now been sent to Hotung.

High Wind Causes Death And Damage

Three Drowned Here Sunday; Many Trees Blown Down

Several deaths and injuries and a considerable amount of property damage accompanied the high wind which swept Shanghai Sunday as the typhoon moved across country toward the north. Small shipping on the river got a terrific lashing while throughout the city trees and structures of slighter sort were blown down, roof tiles and signboards were carried away and telephone and light wires suffered.

Three fatalities were attributed to the blow in reports turned in yesterday. The victims were two men and a woman drowned in the Whangpoo on Sunday, supposedly having been capsized. An 18-year-old barber's apprentice who was passing along Woosung Road Sunday afternoon was injured about the face and head when a number of loose tiles blew off a roof. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment.

The Gordon Road riding school matshed was brought to the ground by the gusts and numerous other buildings of similar structure were partly or wholly wrecked, including the baseball stands at the Race Course.

Trees of various sizes were blown to the ground on Pingliang, Moulmein, Jessfield, Brenan, Nanyang, Gordon and Sinza Roads. One large tree at the corner of Jessfield and Yu Yuen Roads pulled a network of telephone wires down with it and tugged the telephone pole out of alignment, interfering with traffic for a short time.

Say 13-Year-Old Lads Killed Apprentice

A fifteen-year-old tailor's apprentice died early Sunday morning as a result, it is alleged, of an assault by two other apprentices aged each 13. It is stated that the victim was on his way to a hot water shop on Peking Road when a melon rind was thrown at him from a tinsmith's establishment in which the two younger lads were employed. He stopped to remonstrate and a fight followed, during which he was struck with a piece of tin. The two tinsmith's apprentices are being held.

Breach Of Promise Hearing Before Court

Arguments were heard by Judge C. S. Lobingier yesterday in the United States Court for China on a demurrer that was filed in the suit of Miss Henrietta Weil versus J. T. Wright. The action is a suit based upon alleged breach of promise in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages in the sum of $10,000, alleging that the plaintiff failed to fulfill an agreement to marry. The contention advanced in the demurrer is that under the statute of limitations allegations advanced by the plaintiff cannot be entertained by the court. The question of the demurrer was taken under advisement.

Foreigner In Rescue As Motor Car Leaps Into 15-Foot Ditch

A Chinese amateur chauffeur and his ditto companion who inadvertently converted a Ford car into a submarine yesterday morning narrowly escaped with their lives by reason of the transformation and enabled Mr. E. A. Orrell, of the Belting and Leather Products Association, to clinch a leg on the China Carnegie hero cup, if they have such things in China.

The aspiring learn-pidgin was roweling the machine rapidly along Route Doumer, near the Columbia Country Club, at about 7:30 a.m. when it went over the bank of a creek, diving into fifteen feet of liquid. The occupants of the car were momentarily pinned beneath the water and when they had extricated themselves it was seen that the driver was unable to swim. Mr. Orrell, who happened to be passing, leaped in and, after a struggle, managed to get the drowning man to a position over the car, the rear axle of which reached the surface. Here the rescued one attached himself firmly to the machine and refused to let the salvage work go on until some Chinese brought a plank, by means of which he was hauled out. The other man managed to save himself.

PACT RENEWAL NO VITAL, IS CLAIM

One Sided Instrument Would Work Against Japan, Is Belief Of Statesman

IS NOT ALL IMPORTANT

Need For Japan To Protect Britain in India, With U.S. Exception Clause, No Benefit, Belief

Tokio, July 13.—The ending of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty would not exercise any material influence on the course of events in the For East, is the opinion of Mr. Masami Oishi, a veteran statesman now retired from active politics.

Writing in the Sichi Nichi, Mr. Oishi says: "The indications are that a material agreement has been reached to abolish the existing treaty of alliance between Japan and England. Some people tend to regard the prospect as having the possibility of adversely affecting the situation in the Far East, but in my judgement there is no foundation for such fear.

"The explanation of the course which the discussion of the question of renewal at the British Imperial Conference took is found in the attitude of the Premier of Canada, who has strong public opinion behind him in his stand against the renewal of the treaty. But the greatest obstacle to renewal appears to come from the United States, whose opinion cannot be ignored by the British statesmen without serious damage to the vital interests of their country. The probable upshot of the situation will be the ending of the Alliance. Some sections of the Japanese tend to attach undue importance to the Anglo-Japanese agreement, and it is they who speak as though the cancellation will mean the severest blow to Japan's interests and influence.

An analysis of the situation arising out of the abolishing of the treaty, however, will convince these people of the baselessness of their anxiety, since it is clear that with a provision regarding the United States the Alliance will be a one-sided instrument, which there is no sound reason for perpetuating. Supposing the renewed form of the Alliance excudes expressively the United States, any self-respective Japanese could not contemplate the situation with equanimity, since the existence of such a clause constitutes a serious reflection on national honor.

"The disadvantages of such a treaty do not end here, for the provisions will bind Japan to come to the assistance of England when there occurs trouble in India.

"There is some amount of reason in the position of those who argue that ending the Alliance may have ultimate effect of throwing Japan into a position of isolation in international politics. The answer to these people is that Japan might be isolated even when the agreement existed, since the isolation of Japan is a question which has no direct bearing on the question of renewal of the treaty. Who knows that Japan would not be cut off from the rest of the world in the event of war with America?

"The advocates of renewal at any cost of the Alliance argue their case from the standpoint of the future situation in the Far East, especially in China. They declare as though their words are final that the ending of the treaty would help to build up a public opinion in China which would be disastrous to the vital interests of Japan on the mainland. Chinese contempt of us, which would be one of the consequences of such a situation, they further say, would lead to a state of things which might be aggravated until solution were possible only by mutually disastrous methods. That this argument does not hold water, will be seen when it is considered that the maintenance of friendship with China is not dependent upon the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, but the question turns wholly upon our attitude toward the Chinese. As long as the present policy in China is countenanced and continued, so long will the Chinese question be insoluble.

"What Japan should do if she sincerely desires the friendship and co-operation of the Chinese is not to renew the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, but to make an end of the present methods of dealing with Chinese affairs. But reaching such a state cannot be possible except by establishing a permanent Chinese policy which is based on goodwill and co-operation. Such a policy would be ineffective if it did not help to solve the situation presented by the constant warring between the northern and southern factions. My explanation of the anti-Japanese feeling in China is that we have been following a policy in China which did not take into consideration the real interests of the Chinese. It is satisfactory to note that the best minds in England are realising the necessity of co-operation with Japan in an attempt to help China compose her internal disputes and establish a strong central government. I hope that Japan will not be slow in realising the possibilities of the situation and endeavor to contribute toward the solution of a question on the settlement of which not only the peace and welfare of the Chinese but those of humanity at large depend."

In the view of Mr. Oishi the question of limitation of armaments is closely related to the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. In view of the English support of the American proposal for retrenchment of expenditure on naval armaments, Mr. Oishi is convinced that the movement will meet with a large, if not a full measure of success. "There is nothing to prevent Japan from wholeheartedly supporting the plan," says the veteran statesman. "The financial condition of Japan is the best argument for her as that we have seen where some entrance into the scheme. English agreement is founded on an equally compelling consideration. England cannot contemplate with detachment the spectacle of America steadily encroaching upon the borders of her domination of the sea.

"But if the advocates of disarmament insist on the curtailment of the present naval strength of the three principal naval Powers there is reason for fearing that their scheme may be difficult of accomplishment, whatever the motives that are impelling England and Japan to seek relief from the burden of armaments. The best way to approach the question is in working first for the conclusion of an agreement for the stoppage of naval armaments for a certain period."

Bad Year For Ice In North Atlantic

Washington, June 15.—The iceberg situation in the North Atlantic is now worse than in any year since 1912 when the Titantic suffered her fate, so naval experts said today. As early as April transatlantic liners began to travel lanes sixty miles south of the regular Summer routes.

The open winter has broken the ice and left the great bergs free to draft southward. Steamships traveling westbound are now crossing the 47th degree of longitude at 43.30, and eastbound ships crossing the same parallel at 39.30.

An international patrol is daily and nightly at work keeping guard and sending out radiograms every morning to the hydrographic office of the Navy department. The revenue cutters Seneca and Yamacraw are close to the southern boundary of the ice. Both these vessels belong to the American service, but the expense of the patrol is jointly maintained by the United States, Great Britain and France.

No danger is feared for transatlantic vessels if they regard the advices from the Navy Department so officers say. The two steamers which lately ran into bergs did so it is said, because they steamed out of the northern part of St. John and the mouth of St. Lawrence and were thus so far north they could not get into the southern lanes in time to escape the peril.

Japan To Make History For Four Months, Says Ledger

American Newspaper Says People Of Empire Realise Crisis—Struggle Of Bureaucrats Against Liberals And Masses

Washington, July 20.—The Philadelphia Public Ledger today, in commenting on its dispatches from Tokio, says that the people of the Mikado are facing a great crisis, and that they are beginning to understand something of the reach and scope of that crisis. The bureaucrats want one thing and the liberals and the mass of the people want another. "The next four months will make world history, and most of it will be made in Japan," says the Ledger.

"The logic of circumstances backs up the confidence felt in Washington that Japan will finally accept the invitation of President Harding. Tokio is swinging around to face the fact that Japan must accept or stand convicted of fearing to enter a conference with other nations on Pacific and Far Eastern questions. Tokio knows that the world will place the blackest possible interpretation on her refusal.

"The words of Admiral Baron Kato, Japan's Minister of the Navy, are blunt, hard common sense."

Will the Washington Conference have to have a committee on credentials such as American national political conventions have? It begins to look that way, judging by the news coming from China. If the Republican Government of Canton insists on sending a delegate to Washington, it may be a tough nut for the conferees to crack in deciding whether the Canton delegation or that of the Peking Government is the real thing.

Sun Yat-sen, president of the Canton Government, would like to come himself, it has been intimated here, and would be accompanied by Dr. Wu Ting-fang, who is probably more favorably known in the United States than any other Chinese.

It is considered certain that Dr. Wellington Koo will be the chief delegate of the Peking Government.

France To Exploit The River Rhone

To Expend 2,500,000,000 Francs Developing Water Power And Reclaiming Land

Paris, June 15.—Expenditure of 2,500,000,000 francs on the exploitation of the water power of the River Rhone has just been authorised by the French Parliament. The results in view are production of electricity equal to 700,000 horse-power, the saving of 5,000,000 tons of coal annually, and the reclamation by irrigation of 500,000 acres of waste land around the mouths of the Rhone.

The work may be finished in fifteen to twenty years. The first section, however, a great dam at Genissiat and a smaller one at Bellegarde, not far from the Swiss frontier, may be completed in ten years. Electric transmission cables are to be laid from Genissiat to Paris, about 200 miles. By 1931 the capital may be lighted by the natural power of the Rhone.

Eighteen less important power plants will be installed all along the river as far as Tarascon.

Besides furnishing this vast water power, the work will make the Rhone navigable from Marseilles to Geneva, a distance of about 300 miles.

New Monte Carlo To Be Nearer Paris

Big Resort Planned Within Hour's Ride Of City; Details Of Plan

Paris, June 11.—Although gambling resorts are not permitted within 100 kilometers of Paris French lovers of baccarat, poker and other get poor quick systems are not going to lose their favorite amusement. They have formed a syndicate which will transform a little health resort in Normandie "Forges les Eaux" into one of Monte Carlo's biggest competitors, with a casino, luxurious hotels and all the charms of the expensive Vichy resorts. Being only an hour's train ride from Paris, Forges les Eaux is already crowded with visitors eager to buy up suitable sites for summer hotels.

In reviving gambling there the promoters are merely repeating history, for during the reign of Louis XIII. it was favored as a resort by D'Artagnan and other musketeers, who sought repose there after violent fights in behalf of their king or mistresses. The old town still has many remainders of the ancient days but they will disappear to make way for Paris's new playground.

Lack Of Sleep Only Few Days Is Fatal

But One Can Live Without Food For Weeks, Says Scientist

Paris, June 11.—You may be able to go without food for weeks and weeks, but if you are deprived of sleep for only a few days you will die, says Dr. Anna Lipinski, who has been lecturing before French medical societies on the value of slumber in therapeutics.

Dr. Lipinski herself has gone three weeks without eating, although she managed to keep her strength at a fairly normal scale by frequent drinks of water. She is continuing her experiments in a laboratory on the outskirts of Paris, despite the fact that she lost her sight several years before the war, and has given a mass of evidence to the doctors which is expected to reform the treatment of many neurasthenic and digestive maladies.

Duke Of Orleans Still Seeks French Throne

Paris, June 11.—Although France never was more unitedly republican than today, the royalists still cling to the hope of a restoration of the monarchy, and at the royalist banquet recently a message from Philippe, Duke of Orleans, who is accepted as the logical pretender to French rulership, was read, declaring: "With the aid of God, when the people so desire, I am ready."

"History has shown," the Duke declared, "that it is impossible to govern France without a personal, permanent leadership, around which natural discords, rivalries and legitimate competition can continue without damaging the Government. When France lies bleeding and is waiting for legitimate reparation the Government when left to itself is showing its impotence and does not even know how to execute the treaty which it has concluded."

The Duke of Orleans insists that this is not the fault of the French people, but declares that the failure lies in the absence of himself as the personal leader of the destinies of France, and concludes his message by saying that the "near future will prove whether in such grave circumstances France has the government which she deserves."

GERMAN GOLD PIECES FOUND IN SOAP BARS

Each Of Eleven Cakes Bought By Housewife Discloses Twenty-Marks Coins

Berlin, June 18.—A message from Cologne states that a German housewife saw in the window of a grocer's in the Neumarkt, soap at 3.50 marks a cake, and as the same kind of soap was sold elsewhere at 5.50 marks, bought eleven cakes, paying all the money she had with her.

Her husband, when he returned from work and was told of the cheap soap, growled, "Probably filled with sawdust," and cut one cake in two. A twenty-mark ($5) gold piece was disclosed. Each of the ten other cakes contained a similar gold coin.

Husband and wife hurried back to the shop, where a big box of such soap had been exhibited for sale. But the whole stock had been sold.

The soap evidently had been stolen from somebody intending to smuggle the gold coins across the frontier to some foreign country.

The thief, unaware of the hidden gold, sold his booty, which found its way to the grocer on the Neumarkt who said he bought the soap from a pedlar.

DODGES INTERVIEW ON PLEA OF 'DEATH'

Bertrand Russell Refuses Press Statements, Saying He "Died" Here Three Months Ago

Tokio, July 20.—The Japanese papers of yesterday print a story that deserves to live with Mark Twain's famous comment on the premature report of his death, that it was very much "exaggerated." The hero of the story is Mr. Bertrand Russell, noted English Socialist, who is now staying in Kobe, and the laugh is on the press of Japan, which, it will be remembered, circulated a Kokusai dispatch from Peking about three months ago to the effect that Mr. Russell had died in Peking. Papers containing this dispatch reached America and gave worldwide circulation to the "news" of Mr. Russell's decease.

The usual horde of Japanese reporters swarmed around Mr. Russell when he arrived at Moji on the Yoko Maru. Mr. Russell is not in good health and is moreover the opposite of a publicity seeker. But he was prepared to meet the ordeal. To the reporters who came aboard he handed cards on which he had written neatly in English: "Mr. Bertland Russell, having died (in Japan) three months ago, is unable to issue any statements to the press."

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
The Effects of Opiates.
THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.
The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." JOHN J. LOTZ, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.
"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." WM. F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.
"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." VICTOR H. CORTHAM, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. PARDEE, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD PARDEE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Your Castoria holds the utmost of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a safe and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

COUPLES AWAIT SEVERANCE OF MARITAL TIES TO SHIFT HOMES

Family Mixups Furnish Argument For Proponents Of "Trial Marriage"

STORY "GETS" JUDGE

Mother-in-Law Also Unable To Grasp Plans To Exchange Wives

Anderson, Ind., June 20.—Proponents of the theory of "trial marriages" have received a heavy argument in favor of their premises here in Anderson.

It has come in the recent quadruple romance of Mr. and Mrs. William Muncy, married four years, and their next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Huffman, married six years.

For these two marriages are about to be dissolved—if nothing goes wrong in the next few weeks—and the contracting parties are going to rearrange themselves and stage a double wedding. In this Mrs. William Muncy will become Mrs. Gorman Huffman and Mrs. Huffman will become Mrs. William Muncy.

It's all arranged except the minor details of the two separations and the subsequent remarriage rites.

William and Gorman have been employed, side by side, for some years in a mill. While they have been at work their wives, in good old fashioned neighborliness, have chummed back and forth between their respective and adjacent homes.

Evenings, Sundays and holidays the four spent together in picnics and parties.

EACH CONFESSES LOVE

Suddenly Gorman Huffman awoke to the fact that he was in love with his neighbor's wife While he was steeling himself to confess this love to Mr. Muncy the latter approached and confessed that he was in love with Mrs. Hoffman.

Then Mrs. Huffman's mother came to their home for a visit. The two young wives went to her and confessed that each of them was in love with the other's husband. The young men added their confessions. To each of them it was perfectly simple. Their first loves had faded In the place of these loves had come a more mature affection. But the latter one was for another would-be mate.

Mrs. Neighbor, the mother-in-law of Mrs. Huffman was asked for advice. For once in her life she was tumped. This was an event such as never had come to her notice before. In fact, to her it had all the sense of a fantastic dream from which she hoped she would awaken and find it gone. When she finally realised that facts and not fancies were confronting her she advised the quartet to go to the district judge in this city and seek his advice.

JUDGE IS FLABBERGASTED

The judge was just plain flabbergasted. Here was a situation for which Blackstone never had provided.

Neither did any rules of court procedure nor Supreme Court decision offer him any precedent.

While trying to figure out some means of retaining his dignity he said:

"Now, let me see. Do I get this right? You young fellows want to swap your wives and your wives are just as anxious to take part in the deal?

"Well, in that case, you've come to the wrong place. This isn't any matrimonial exchange counter. You'd better all go hunt up a lawyer and let him help you out of your predicament. I'm here to try cases; not to show folks how to swap mates."

SIMPLE SAYS ATTORNEY

An attorney was seen. To him the whole affair was even more simple than to the Huffmans and the Muncys. He said:

"We'll draw up divorce actions for each of you women. Then we'll get you legally separated. After that you can go ahead with arrangements for your next weddings. This is easy this time. Just a simple case of wanting to be on the other side of the road. But, gosh, if you want back after you get over, that will be something else again. I'll get the first divorce. If you want any more count me out."

That over, the four linked arms, strolled back and ate dinner together, chatting gaily of the happiness each could vision in the future. Strangely, not a bit of jealousy entered the situation at any time.

And so the matter stands. The divorce actions have been filed and apparently are due for trial at an early date. The dinner parties, week end picnics and other neighborly affairs continue.

Only Mrs. Neighbor, the mother-in-law of Mrs. Huffman, shows any perturbation over the whole affair. It's too complex, too ultra-modern, too deep for her. She has sought refuge in her time-tried ideas. She says:

"Poor children. I'm afraid they are trespassing on the devil's ground." And she doesn't try to hide the occasional tear that steals across her withered cheek as she views the mixup.

Both Mrs. Muncy and Mrs. Huffman, each about thirty years old, made cruelty their one specific charge, yet both plaintiffs and defendants apparently are on friendly terms.

Muncy and Huffman, about the same age as their wives, are fellow employes in a local steel mill. The Madison Circuit Court, is the Madison Circuit. Court, is attorney for both plaintiffs. He asserts he does not know the motive of the two suits.

Mr. and Mrs. Muncy, Huffman and his wife have been living apart since the divorce complaints were filed and their homes are closed.

THE JUDGE'S VERSION

The most authentic version of action by the two couples is narrated by William A. Kittinger, Judge of the Madison Circuit Court, who went into some detail concerning an informal conversation he had with the Muncys and Huffmans in his courtroom recently. Carrington T. Marshall, of Columbus, Ohio, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio, heard of the incident, and by letter he inquired of Judge Kittinger for information as to the same.

Justice Marshall's letter follows:

"Columbus, Ohio, May 30, 1921.

"Judge Kittinger, Anderson, Ind:

"My Dear Judge—I have noticed in several newspapers an article to the effect that you were interviewed by one William Muncy and one Gordon Huffman, relative to a proposed exchange of wives and that you advised them to file bills for divorce on the grounds of abandonment, and that such suits have been filed, and it is expected they will be allowed and that a double wedding will later follow.

"I will be very glad indeed if you will briefly tell me something more about the circumstances of this matter. The situation narrated in the newspaper articles has a peculiar interest to me in view of some official duties I now have under consideration. Your prompt reply will be greatly appreciated.

"Signed, "C. T. MARSHALL.
"Chief Justice."

WANTED QUIET DIVORCE

Judge Kittinger's reply to Justice Marshall follows:

"Hon. Carrington T. Marshall,

"Chief Justice Supreme Court of Ohio.

"Dear Sir and Friend—Your kind letter of May 30 received relative to newspaper articles concerning William Muncy and Gordon Huffman, who came to me wanting divorces for the purpose of exchanging wives. One of them, I think Muncy, is redheaded. He came up to my court-room one day when I was not very busy and inquired whether one could get a divorce on the quiet.

"I said to him the only way to get a divorce was to go and higher a lawyer and bring suit and if entitled to a divorce he would get it. He went away and said: 'I'll see you again.' Returning he said: 'I am in love with Huffman's wife and he is in love with my wife.' 'Oh,' I said, 'You want to swap wives, do you?" He said: 'That's the idea exactly.'

"I said: 'Is either one of you getting boot?' He said 'No.' I said, 'when people swap horses generally one gets some boot.' I also said, 'if you want to file an action for divorce, either one of you, you'd better get a lawyer, but don't file your actions in the Circuit Court. File them in the Superior Court, because my conversation with you has disqualified me from hearing your case.'

"They came into court last Monday a week ago and inquired for a lawyer. I sent them to former Judge Ellison, as he was in the courtroom at the time. They filed their suits but filed them in my court.

"I notified them at the time I would not give them a divorce and that I didn't think any other court would who knew the facts, and I notified them I would transfer the cases to the Superior Court. Of course they'll not get a divorce.

"None of the parties has any children. They have been married five or six years and they are from your State (Ohio). They live side by side and the husbands work side by side in the American Steel and Wire Company's plant in this city.

"They are not bad looking people. All I am afraid of is that they belong to my party the (Republican party), and they ought to have more sense."

(Signed)
"WILLIAM A. KITTINGER.
"Judge of the Madison Circuit Court."

The Muncys and Huffmans formerly lived in the vicinity of Newcomerstown, Ohio, which place the two couples frequently visited.

Yangtze River—North Channel Entrance.

Tsungming Crossing—Former report of sudden shoaling incorrect.

Referring to Special Notice to Mariners No. 598, NOTICE is hereby given that a recent examination of the Tsungming Crossing proves the former report of a sudden shoaling, with a depth of water of only 10 feet between the West Spit Buoy and the Crossing Buoy, to have been incorrect. The depth of water on the Tsungming Crossing now averages 3 feet less that shown on the Marine Department Chart No. 2.—Woosung to Plover Point, re-issued in March 1921, the least depth of water found between the West Spit Buoy and the Crossing Buoy being 15 feet at Low Water of Extraordinary Spring Tides.

CAUTION.

As the Tsungming Crossing shows signs of probable further deterioration in the near future, great caution should be exercised by navigators using this channel.

Conseil D'Administration Municipale De La Concession Francaise de Changhai

MUNICIPAL LOAN OF 1921

(20,000 debentures of Tls. 100 each).

Rate of interest 8% per annum

The "Conseil d'Administration Municipale de la Concession Francaise de Changhai" hereby invite subscriptions for 20,000 debentures of Tls. 100 each, according to the resolution passed at their General Meeting on May 30, 1921.

The conditions on which the Debenture Certificates will be issued are:—

1°—The Debenture Certificates are transferable, and the person whose name is entered in the Register of Debenture Certificate or Certificates, shall alone be recognised and treated by the Council as the lawful and rightful holder and owner of such Debenture Certificate or Certificates.

2°—The loan will be redeemable at par (Tls. 100) in not less than 10 years and not more than 30 years, from 1st July, 1931 and according to the figures determinated by the Council.

3°—The loan will bear interest at 8% per annum, payable on the 30th day of June and 31st of December in each year, when interest warrants will be issued to the registered owners.

4°—The property and income of the Municipality, deducting those which serve as security provided in the Municipal Loans of 1903, 1911, 1914 and 1916 are the security for the repayment of the money advanced and for the interest thereon in the present loan.

The Members of the French Municipal Council are not personally liable in any way for the payment of either principal or interests.

5°—Applications for debentures will be received at the Secretary's Office, Rue du Consulat.

A cheque representing the amount of debentures asked for must be deposited at the same time.

6°—Applications for Debentures under par will not be recognised by the Council.

7°—For further informations, apply to Mr. P. LEGENDRE, Secretary, French Municipal Council.

Shanghai, 1st July, 1921.

P. LEGENDRE,
Secretary.

How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers, consists in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filing with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Henry IV. Shimmied, Asserts Leo Staats

"Fox Trot Is Denatured Highland Fling," Paris Opera Ballet Master Declares—"One-Step March With Wriggling Comes From Orient, And Other New American Dances Are Old As Methuselah"

Paris, June 18.—"There is no new thing under the sun" were the words of Ecclesiastes, and they are repeated by Leo Staats, the ballet master at the Paris Grand Opera. Americans have been pluming themselves on new dances in the belief that they invented them.

"Not at all," says M. Staats. "Henry IV. danced the shimmy, and the others are as old as Methuselah. Modern! Nonsense. The fox trot is the denatured Scottish Highland fling, the one-step is a march with wriggling from the Orient, the shimmy is a humorous dance beloved by Henry IV. Everything is old. It makes me laugh when I hear the 'new' dances called American."

M. Staats considers the Boston the finest ballroom dance and declares it is ridiculous to think of reviving the gavotte and the pavanne.

"Danced by amateurs these make a highly ridiculous spectacle, which makes me both laugh and pity. To dance them properly requires long training and sure technique. The crowd knows what it can dance and what it cannot. That is why it foxtrots, shimmies, one-steps and tangoes. These dances are simple and in them people are not unbearably ridiculous."

BROCK PEMBERTON'S PLANS

Brock Pemberton of New York, dramatic critic and producer, is in Paris looking over the theatrical field after having arranged to produce in London in the autumn "Enter Madame," with Gilda Varesi in the principal role, in which she made a New York success.

"I had intended to give 'Enter Madame' this spring," Mr. Pemberton told The World correspondent, "but the coal strike so upset things there that I have decided to defer it until fall."

Mr. Pemberton has been conferring with Max Dearly, a famous French comedian, regarding "Enter Madame," and Mr. Dearly very likely will appear in the play in Paris.

"Dearly has bought the French rights for 'Byron,' a play by Kai Kushro Ardaschir (who married Miss Gladys Unger), which I am to present in New York," Mr. Pemberton remarked, "and he thinks as highly of this play as I do. Dearly speaks English fluently and with comparatively little accent, and if he goes to America he ought to make a big success."

Mr. Pemberton finds the theater in both London and Paris suffering from shell shock, especially as regards productions and scenery.

"The people in Europe apparently have little money to spend on productions," he went on, "and the result is evident. There is no comparison with the beautiful productions in America, and as far as Paris is concerned, it seems to me they are doing the same things they have been doing for the past twenty years. The most interesing things I have seen have been the Russian spectacle 'La Chauve Souris,' and the Swedish dancers."

ENGLISH-SPEAKING THEATER

An English-speaking playhouse called the Little Theater opened in Paris recently under the direction of Philip Carr, E. H. Sothern making the inaugural address. Despite the eleventh hour indisposition of Miss Vera Ticha, who was to have taken a part in George Middleton's "The Reason," an admirable substitute was found in an English actress, Miss Isabel Roland, who, assisted by Pierre Fresnay of the Comedie Francaise, gave a brilliant performance of the American playwright's work. Other plays presented were Barrie's "Rosalind," Susan Glaspell's "Suppressed Desires" and W. W. Jacobs's "Keeping Up Appearances." The British and American colonies were well represented and it is hoped that the theater will become a permanent institution and a center of Anglo-American activities in the French capital.

Mlle. Cecile Sorel has appeared in a new role. After trying to destroy "Bib's" caricature of her in the Salon des Humoristes, suing the salon for damaging her reputation and withdrawing the suit, the famous actress decided to become an auctioneer. She had a chance at the Ingres exhibition, where she auctioned off Ingres's design, after David, of "Le Serment des Horaces." In a huge brown hat and white satin gown she mounted the rostrum and, after being introduced by Andre de Fouquieres as "neither man nor woman but Mlle. Cecile Sorel," she proceeded to business so effectively that in three minutes she had knocked down the picture for 40,000 francs to an anonymous Count B. The proceeds went to the Face Mutilation Fund.

The Countess of Chambrun, formerly Miss Clara Longworth of Cincinnati, has received a doctorate of the Sorbonne. The jury conferring the honor consisted of Profs. Seignobos, Legouis and Chamard. The Countess is one of the few American women who have won a doctorate at this famous college. Her thesis will be published shortly by Payot.

Anna Pavilowa is to appear at the Paris Opera. The greatest living dancer, who now is appearing at the Trocadero, will dance three times at the opera. She is to give, among other things, Dukas's "Ballet Le Peri" and also dance "Daphnis et Chloe," for which Fokine wrote the scenario and composed the dances, and in which she will dance with Mrs. Fokine and the opera corps de ballet.

ENGAGEMENT

MR. and Mrs. I. Silberman announce the engagement of their daughter Rosie to Mr. Max Friedman. 40263

The Chinese Political Stage

BY JOSEF W. HALL

UNDOUBTEDLY the purest bit of humor put on the boards the past week is the announcement of Chang Tso-lin that since the Far Eastern Republic has saved him the task of driving Ungern out of Urga, he will devote the money, which he has extorted from the Peking treasury for the expenses of the no longer needed expedition, to the establishment of a bank. The First Supertuchunal Bank will, we suppose, be the forerunner of a number of such institutions. China's financial progress should be greatly accelerated thereby.

It is the privilege of the lesser players occasionally to take a fling at the stars. Hearing of the squabble at Peking as to who should fill China's seat at the Pacific Conference in Washington, the Shanghai popular bodies have circularised the government with the suggestion that Premier Chin Yun-peng, High-Inspecting General Tsao Kun and Super-Tuchun Chang Tso-lin be despatched to Washington. Should their presence at Washington accomplish no good for China, their absence from China would, avers the petition, be of inestimable good to the country.

Chin Yun-peng, by the way, really wished to go. Some of his retainers —young returned students like F. T. Sung, who feel that "it is their turn" to get in on something good—have been endeavoring to persuade the Premier that his forte is foreign diplomacy and that with their interpretorial assistance he will prove a second Li Hung-chang. Apparently, however, the Premier has been disillusioned as to his qualifications to fill such a mission by the brutally frank advice of some of his compeers. There is a growing feeling against allowing Wellington Koo to continue to collect all the honors abroad. The personnel of China's delegation is still very much undecided.

President Harding's invitation to China to participate has aroused more widespread interest among Chinese than has been manifested in foreign affairs since the Shantung agitation. Generally, Chinese are inclined to interpret the Pacific and Disarmament Conference as a court of inquiry into Japan's China aggressions. Many of the better read believe Great Britain to be behind President Harding's call, in the hope of side-stepping her Japanese problem. The effect upon the Chinese of the calling of the Conference is not in the main good. They are inclined to consider themselves made safer than ever from foreign aggression, and freer to squabble among themselves.

The Hupeh-Hunan strife has been the main show of the week. Wu Pei-fu, with a division and several mixed brigades under General Hsiao Yao-nan, confidently holds the power in the Wuhan cities, while allowing Wang Chan-yuan's troops to meet the shock of the Hunan invasion on the provincial border. About the only person who considers the matter very serious is Tuchun Wang. Canton, of course, is doing everything possible to make of it a general invasion of the North.

The Chihli faction has shown a desire to secure to itself the friendship of the Moslem element of Sui-yuan and Kansu by weakening in its support of Lu Hung-tao, whom the Mohammedans hate, as Tuchun of Kansu. A political realignment in this border province may be expected soon. General Ma Fu-hsiang is at present enjoying a very favorable position, as both Fengtien and Chihli parties are bidding for his support.

Chang Tso-lin has gone up against old Chiang Kwei-ti of Jehol and met defeat. He has been forced to leave Chiang in his position as Tutung of this territory of Inner Mongolia, and withdraw his troops from Jehol. Jehol was among the territories placed under his suzerainty for the purposes of the great Mongolian expedition. The Fengtien overlord is very chafed over the matter.

Yourin came back to Peking with a whip in his hand rather than on bended knee. He did not fool away much time on the Foreign Office, but returned to Mukden to resume conversations with the real boss there, resulting in Chang Tso-lin's official calling-off of the Mongolian expedition. Some day, probably too late, China will learn that she got to quit kicking the Russian bear around.

BILL FOR COMING WEEK

(Subject to Change without Notice)

The Hunan-Hupeh scrap still promises several weeks good run, with Wu Pei-fu starring in the closing acts. The schemes of the Peking government to get money are, of course, a continual feature and will go on during the coming week as usual. Chang Tso-lin will continue his philandery with the Far Eastern Republic.

Should the parties reach a serious agreement, the Foreign Office will, in spite of face, find a means of bestowing the paternal benediction. Wellington Koo will keep on assuring the foreign governments that China is a united nation of zealous patriots striving against difficulties to establish a democratic government. Meanwhile those who desire a turn at the honors will continue their plots to undermine him at home.

Obata will return to Peking.

Battersea Bridge

(From the Century)

"This is the hour," she said, "of transmutation:
It is the eucharist of the evening, changing
All things to beauty. Now the ancient river,
That all day under the arch was polished jade,
Becomes the ghost of a river; thinly gleaming
Under a silver cloud. It is not water;
It is that azure stream in which the stars
Bathe at the daybreak and become immortal."
"And the moon," said I, not thus to be outdone.
"The moon, the waxen moon, now almost full,
Creeps whitely up. Westward the waves of cloud,
Vermilion, crimson, violet, stream on the air,
Shatter to golden flakes in the icy green
Infinity of twilight; and the moon
Drinks up their light, and as they fade or darken,
Brightens. O monstrous miracle of the twilight,
That one should live because the others die!"
"Strange, too," she answered, "that upon this azure,
Pale-gleaming, ghostly stream, impalpable,
So faint, so fine, that scarcely it bears up
The petals that the lantern strews upon it,
These great black barges float like apparitions,
Loom in the silver of it, beat upon it,
Moving upon it as dragons move in air."
"Thus always," then I answered, looking never
Toward her face, so beautiful and strange
It grew with feeding on the evening light,
"The gross is given, by inscrutable God,
Power to beat wide wings upon the subtle.
Thus we ourselves, so fleshly, fallible, mortal,
Stand here, for all our foolishness, transfigured;
Hung over nothing in an arch of light,
While one more evening, like a wave of silence,
Gathers the stars together and goes out."

CONRAD AIKEN.

Japanese And Foreign Wives

New Fangled Ideas Are Upsetting Old Customs

BY GYOTEI KIKUCHI

(Translated by Autolycus in The Japan Advertiser)

When in Rome do as the Romans do, is a well known saying. In order to know how to conduct ourselves we should be conversant with the manners and customs of all peoples with whom we are living. But we should not at the same time lose sight of, and neglect the special good points of hereditary custom, good or bad.

For instance, it is very difficult for the Japanese to imagine such a custom as this which exists in England and America. A man will absent himself from his duty in the office or shop, and give as his reason that his wife has been ill. Can you imagine a Japanese giving such an excuse? A man may be absent from his position if he is ill himself, but if he uses as his excuse "My wife was ill" people will think he is henpecked and laugh at him. A prominent missionary made an engagement with a Japanese business man. He did not keep the engagement much to the annoyance of the business man, who later met the missionary. The only excuse he had to give was "O my wife was taken suddenly ill, and I could not communicate with you." Such an excuse is considered very strange by the Japanese but the English thing nothing of it at all.

WHEN THE HUSBAND PLAYS

There are many people in Japan who won't go home at all when their wives are ill because they cannot stand their sick looking faces, and bear to hear their complaints. They prefer to stay away from home and drink and be merry. They have not much sympathy for their sick wives. The late Marquis Komura when he went as Ambassador to the Court of St. James left his wife in Japan because she was ill. This was quite an ordinary thing for a Japanese to do. For going as Ambassador to the Court of England was a state affair, and private interests could not be allowed to interfere with the needs of the nation. But the English probably thought it strange that husband and wife did not come together. Because of the differences in social organisations these customs are different. Japan is not wrong, neither is England.

Once when I was investigating social conditions abroad I heard an Englishman in a factory ask for an increase of wages because he was going to be married. But I never heard anyone abroad ask for more money because of a father or mother, sister or brother.

OLD WAYS DYING OUT

The foreign custom is that husband and wife should live together. The English love their wives very intensely, and they are always going places together with them. Many say that this custom is superior to the Japanese. Perhaps this is true, but from the Japanese standpoint, the men say "If I must take my wife everywhere with me, it will be very inconvenient for my duty!"

There are many changes today in the customs held by both men and women. Little is cared for the old ways. Everyone now imitates European manners and customs. The Japanese labor problem, the woman problem, are both ready made on foreign models. Bad or good, we should consider carefully that the customs of our country are founded on conditions very different from those in European countries, and before we consider European customs we should carefully study those of our own country.

Emerson says "History is one, people are one." But the same seed in different soils produces different flowers and fruits. It is of course, not wrong for Japan to follow European customs, but she should very carefully consider the condition of Japanese culture.

WOMAN'S GOOD POINT

I wish to speak of the status of women. The special good characteristic of Japanese women from the earliest days of our history has been her unselfishness, her obedience and docility. Those who listen to the "joruri" of Chikamatsu, feel their hearts stirred by a wish to be of service to women. Why is this so? Merely because they are so full of the spirit of self-sacrifice. They offer their own interests in life to their husbands' needs. They give their bodies into slavery, even into death, for their husbands. Such women are our ideals of womenkind. From the olden days the "samurai" sacrificed himself for his lord. In the same "samurai" manner a true wife will sacrifice all her self for her husband.

An article in the London Times discussed Japanese loyalty and patriotism, and said: "Japanese loyalty and patriotism are the special spirit of the 'samurai.' This spirit comes from the spirit of sacrifice of self, and this spirit of self-sacrifice is best examplified in the lives of the Japanese women."

But—recently the ideas of women have greatly altered and they delight in following the ideas of Europe and America, with the sad result that they are losing the spirit of sacrifice for their husbands. These un-Japanese women say "The chaste and obedient woman has the mind of a slave."—From the magazine Hito no Hito.

WHAT SHE REALLY WANTED

"I want to advertise for a man," said the lady, approaching the want advertisement counter in the newspaper office. "I want to get a man to carry coal in the winter, keep up the fires, shovel snow, mow the lawn in summer, also sprinkle it, tend the flowers, mind the children, wash dishes, sweep the front porch, run errands, and all that kind of work—in short, I want a man who will always be round the place, and can be called upon for any kind of hard work. He must be sober and reliable, of good appearance, not over thirty—"

"Pardon, madam," said the advertising manager, "we cannot accept matrimonial adverts.'

"My mother was British—" began the applicant.

"Yes, yes—"

"But she married a Frenchman—"

"Yes?"

"In Italy."

"Yes; but where were you born?"

"I was born on a Spanish ship flying Spanish colors whilst she was lying at anchor off Japan, but my parents died in Brazil when I was only four years of age, and I was adopted by a Chinaman, who was brought up in Russia—I mean Chita, and—"

"Well, he's—" began an official.

"And now I live in Pootung."

Just As Good

The wife of the profiteer was having great difficulty over the furnishing of the large house. She did not know the names of ordinary articles of furniture, and the more ornamental things completely puzzled her.

One day a woman said to her: "Have you read Lamb's Tales?"

She thought for a while and then answered, nervously, "No, but I've got a gray sheepskin rug."

Auction Bridge---Players' School

BY R. F. FOSTER

(Author of Foster on Auction, Auction Made Easy, Foster's Complete Hoyle, Etc.)

Some readers seem to imagine that it is necessary to give up auction entirely in order to play contract, but this is no more essential than it is to give up cribbage for Russian bank or to abandon pinochle in favor of poker. The thing is to try out a new game—not for one sitting, as that is not enough to more than get accustomed to the preliminaries, but for several sessions, so as to get into the spirit of it.

I find that with many persons an occasional rubber at contract is very much like taking an occasional lesson in golf to straighten out the kinks in your game.

There is nothing that so quickly demonstrates the importance of having some system of weighing a hand accurately, of knowing just how many tricks it should win, as having to bid it up at contract.

The partnership element is very important in this respect, as one player must base his estimate on the declarations of the other. As we have seen in earlier articles, if the original bidder can be depended on for four tricks and bids one, he has just those four at contract. If he had more, he should bid all his hand is worth, if there is any prospect of game. With five hearts to the ace king, for instance, and an ace-king suit outside, he would start with one heart and go on to two, but at contract he should bid two or three right off the bat.

The secret of success at contract seems to be to bid the hands to their full value if they promise game, but to get the contract as cheaply as possible when game is practically out of the question. The danger of bidding up a hand that cannot go game lies in tempting the opponents to go on bidding until they reach game bid, which they may be fortunate enough to make. As long as they do not bid game they cannot win the game.

Here is a deal I saw played not long ago which shows the importance of this point. Game being out of the question for one side, the object is to coax the other side to stop bidding:

	H.—5 C.—Q 6 4 D.—10 8 6 5 S.—A Q J 7 2
A K 10 6 3 C.—7 3 D.—A 7 2 S.—8 6 3	Y A B Z	H.—Q 8 7 2 C.—J 10 5 D.—K Q J S.—9 4
	H.—J 9 4 C.—A K 9 8 2 D.—9 3 S.—K 10 5

Z dealt and bid a club. A bid two hearts, showing the full strength of his hand at once, it being such that he would have gone to two hearts without his partner's assistance at auction. Y bid two spades. At auction, B would undoubtedly support the hearts, but at contract there is no object in doing so, as the possibility of game is very remote against the showing in both black suits.

While it is true that B might be willing to bid four and risk being set, why should he take that chance when the other side cannot go game in spades, no matter what they make, unless they can overcall four hearts? It will be time enough to bid five hearts to save the game after they have gone to four spades. With this in view B passed the two-spade bid.

Here enters the speculative element, which adds so much to the charm of the game. Can Z risk a jump to four spades when his partner calls only two? It is useless to call three, as that is only giving away 41 points by taking one trick out of the bonus class and putting it below the line.

Z left it at two spades, and Y made four, owing to the fact that he had only one heart, and lost nothing but the three tricks in the red suits. Had B gone on to three hearts, he would have been wasting points, and he would have to go to four or nothing. Such a bid would have pushed Z to try four spades, and then if A or B went to five hearts it would have been doubled, and set for 300.

Some persons imagine that a partial score is of greater value in contract than at auction. In auction, it is of help in winning a game only about once in thirteen times; but in many of those thirteen it is won without bidding all that is wanted. In many of the deals that go game at auction the final bid is far below the result; in contract, never. At auction, one may be 10 up, bid a heart and go game. At contract one would have to bid three hearts to go game from such a score.

The importance of showing tops in original bids comes in strongly when one has to calculate whether or not the opponents can go game on their bid. Suppose they are 28 up. If it looks impossible for them to make four-odd, make them bid that number, instead of letting them bid something they can make which will give them game, no matter what it is.

In the foregoing hand A can be depended on for six tricks in attack, three in defense. B's hand is worth three in attack, or nine for the combined hands. Four is out of the question unless they are lucky. Z cannot estimate his partner's hand accurately, because the spades are a forced bid. Their combined hands count only nine. It is a bit of luck that gives them ten tricks in play; but Z should have taken the chance and bid for game.

Here is the solution to problem No. 54, given last week, in which hearts were trumps. Z to lead and Y-Z to win all six tricks.

Z leads the ace of spades, upon which Y discards the club jack. Z follows with a small spade, which Y trumps. Two rounds of trumps follow, picking up both of B's. On the first trump lead Z discards a spade. His next discard is guided by what A discarded on the previous trick. If a diamond, Z gives up the ace.

QUERIES AND ANSWERS

Question: In playing progressive auction, if all four pass the bid, what becomes of the deal, and should the play stop as soon as the bell rings at the head table?

N. L. R.

Answer: If no bid is made, the deal passes to the left; but if it is agreed that there are to be four deals at each table, the same player deals again in progressive games. There is no bell at the head table. After every table has played four deals, the players move.

Question: The dealer holds six hearts to the king-jack-ten; five diamonds to the ten-nine, and two small clubs, on which he bids one heart. His partner insists this is not a sound call. If not, why not?

C. B.

Answer: Original or free bids of one must show some defensive strength, in case the adversaries get the contract. There is only one probably trick in this hand, the king of hearts, and a free bid demands at least four tricks. The proper course is to pass, and, if the opportunity seems favorable, to call the hearts on the second round. Than the partner is not deceived as to the character of the holding.

Taught The Chicken A Lesson

An ignorant chicken, unversed in the appetites of American darkies, crossed the road in front of a colored detachment. A soldier broke from the ranks and started off in pursuit.

"Halt!" bellowed the officer in charge.

Both fowl and negro only quickened their pace.

"Halt! Halt!" repeated the officer.

The dusky soldier made one plunge, seized the chicken by the neck and stuffed it, still struggling, inside his shirt.

"Dere!" he panted. "Ah'll learn you to halt when de captain says halt, you disobedient bird."

Texaco Steam Cylinder Lubricants
plus Texaco Service

Many engineers have found that their steam cylinder lubrication problems can be made less difficult by using Texaco Steam Cylinder Lubricants plus Texaco Service.

Texaco Steam Cylinder Lubricants are a highly specialized group of oils of the high Quality Standard associated the World over with Petroleum Products bearing the Texaco Trademark.

There is one oil in this group that will exactly meet the requirements of your engine, and Texaco Service will help you find out which oil this is. Tell us about the type of your engine, temperature, quality of steam, kind of service, point of introduction, etc. We shall gladly prescribe the Right Texaco Lubricant for your needs.

The Right Oil in the Right Place—that is the key to satisfactory steam cylinder lubrication. We have the oils and can show you how to use them.
